Disaster struck near Haliburton Village early Sunday morning when the Paradise Hotel and Lounge, a familiar tavern for local and summer residents for over 20 years, burned to the ground. The blaze broke out at approximately 3 a.m., and was believed to be started by a smoldering cigarette thrown into a corner earlier in the evening. Both the owner's business and personal effects were lost in the fire. Firefighters from the Dysart fire department were still dousing the charred ruins through until Tuesday, as the heavier beams which collapsed were still blazing and smoking.

Paradise Hotel levelled by early morning blaze, owner blames smokers

The Paradise Hotel and Lounge, a familiar tavern and entertainment spot for hundreds of local residents and cottagers for over 20 years, burned to the ground early Sunday morning despite efforts by 12 men from the Dysart et al Volunteer Fire Department to save it.

Michael Doherty, owner of the establishment, said "we don't know what we're going to do." Though the hotel is insured over and above the contents, Doherty said "an awful pile of personal stuff was lost." The lounge adjoined Doherty's living quarters, and all of the family valuables such as jewellery, clothing and furniture were destroyed.

Doherty said he discovered the blaze at 3 a.m. when he heard the fire alarm sound. He was in the front section of the building and counting the evening's receipts when the signal went off. Smoke was already filling the room when Doherty and his family ran from the building. They escaped "within 15 seconds, and when we got out, we were still coughing." His wife Mary called Dysart fire department, who were on the scene within 10 minutes of the alarm. Firefighters arriving with the first pumper concentrated water on flames which were raging in the back right section of the lounge.

According to Dysart fire chief Howard Roberts, the flames quickly spread to the attic.

"We couldn't put it out," said Roberts. "The flames were already up into the attic and once it started to fall through, that was it." The blaze spread rapidly throughout the building, with combustion occurring in the front section once the heat increased to the flash point. A propane gas tank also erupted and hundreds of beer bottles exploded.

A second pumper arrived moments after the first, and two pump lines were laid to the lake behind the building. For approximately an hour, the 12 firefighters pumped hundreds of gallons of water from six hoses onto the building, but the building continued to burn out of control, and once the roof collapsed, "that was the end of it," said Roberts.

In addition to the lounge itself, three cottages adjoining the building were severely damaged.

Asked for an estimate of the damage, Doherty said "I couldn't even begin to guess," though he did say $200,000 wouldn't replace the establishment itself.

Hundreds of dollars worth of liquor and beer, as well as expensive stereo and bar equipment were lost.

"A month ago, I bought myself a $150 suit, and that's gone," said Doherty. "What gets me is that we just went through the winter season, and we were just getting into the time where it would be busy all the time, and then 'puff'."

Firefighters stayed at the scene of the blaze for six hours, pouring water on the smoldering coals. But bottles continued to explode in the smoking ruins well into the afternoon. The department was still dousing the charred rubble Monday morning.

Chief Roberts is still trying to find the cause of the blaze, though a probable cause has been suggested. According to Doherty, as well as witnesses, some people were flicking cigarette butts at each other in the games section prior to the lounge's closing. One of the cigarettes may have smoldered in the corner, and eventually caught on the carpet.

The fire marshal has been informed of the incident, but chief Roberts said "there is no reason" for an investigation.

Stanhope council to accept Fire Marshall's offer of help

Stanhope Township council has agreed to seek the assistance of the Ontario Fire Marshall's Office in an effort to iron out recent problems within the township's fire department. Those problems came to a head earlier this month when former chief Richard Kinsman was not reappointed as chief following a six month probationary period, and the entire 20 man department resigned.

At a special committee of the whole meeting Thursday night, council authorized clerk Gerald Bain to contact Alan Dupuis, chief of the Fire Services Section of the Ontario Ministry of the Solicitor General, in response to a letter from Dupuis dated June 18. The letter indicated that the Fire Marshall was aware of the recent resignations, and offered a solution. The letter said a staff member from the office would be willing to attend a meeting with council and any people council might wish to invite to that meeting.

In a telephone interview Monday, Roger Woods, council's representative to the fire department, said council does not know how the Fire Marshall's office became aware of the recent problems. Woods said he called the office and found that "they were already aware of the situation."

Employees get interest free car loans, cheques bear single signature

C.A.S. practices a shock to council

The director of the Kawartha Haliburton Children's Aid Society came to county council last week to discuss a resolution about government funding and left without hearing that resolution read. What he did hear, however, was a round of pointed questions about the operation and practices of the Society, and about the way in which it spends public funds.

George Dove came to council to ask for a resolution calling on the provincial government to meet the full cost of care for some children under the protection of the CAS. The children are youngsters who would have been in training schools and group homes if the government had not cut back on spending in those areas. Council, however, had other matters on its mind, as a result of a report given earlier in the meeting by its representative in the CAS committee, Merideth Amm.

Amm told council that at a recent meeting of the CAS committee, which includes elected representatives from Haliburton, Victoria and Peterborough Counties, a number of serious questions surfaced about the operation of the Society. Among them were charges that foster parents sit in on budget meetings and vote to decide how much they should be paid, that cheques for amounts as large as $30,000 have been written bearing only one, instead of the customary two signatures, and that the Society has loaned money to employees for the purchase of cars.

The Improvement District of Bicroft chairman said he was "pretty indignant" when he heard the claims. "If they're true," Amm said, "it (the Society) certainly needs a lot of revamping, especially the constitution," which he said is "just like the Eaton's catalogue - it's practically non-existent."

Following Dove's request for a resolution on more government funding, Amm rose to question the director on the allegations that had been made at the committee meeting.

Stressing that the committee held Dove in the highest regard, but that some things seemed to be "out of control," Amm asked why cheques did not all bear two signatures, "according to the constitution."

Dove said he didn't "know that" the constitution said that, adding that the practice had been for cheques to be signed by the treasurer.

On the matter of car loans to employees, Dove said it was indeed a practice of the Society to lend public funds to employees, interest free, for the purchase of automobiles. He said the loans were a benefit that had been negotiated between employees and a committee consisting of the Society chairman, the treasurer, and the director of the personnel committee, as an alternative to the Society purchasing its own cars to be used by staff. He said the loans affected "one or two" employees at any given time, and that they amounted to no more than four or five thousand dollars in total.

Stanhope reeve Sine Nesbitt objected strongly to the practice, saying the Society was in effect "using my money to provide interest free loans to people" when others must pay bank interest rates "when they wish to borrow money."

Lutterworth reeve Ron Gambell agreed, saying he would have to "challenge the credibility of anyone who cannot buy a car" for use in connection with a job.

Dysart et al reeve Murray Fearney asked the CAS director if it was true that foster parents and group home operators voted on budgets, as the committee claimed.

Dove replied emphatically that there was no truth to the allegation, adding that only one foster parent is on the board, and that she declares conflict of interest and refrains from discussing or voting on any financial matters.

Asked who audits the Society's books, Dove said the Society has its own auditors, that it is also audited yearly by the provincial government, and that this year the federal government, as a "routine matter" also audited the books and found them to be in order.

Dove said the committee's allegations seemed to stem from "a failure in communications" and indicated that the CAS would be willing to review any practices the committee found objectionable, including the car loan issue.

No proof acid rain harms plant life Environment Ministry scientist says

There is no direct proof that acid rain has any effect on terrestrial vegetation, a provincial government researcher has said.

Dr. Sam Linzon, head of the phytotoxicology division of the resources branch of the Ministry of the Environment, told Haliburton County council last week that the only known instances of acid rain damage to plants have occurred in laboratory tests. And in those cases, he said, the affected plants were subjected to acid levels significantly higher than the levels so far present in precipitation falling on the Ontario landscape.

Dr. Linzon's address to council came in response to a request to the local Ministry of Natural Resources for more information about the possible effects of acid rain on the county's forest cover. It was the third in a series intended to give council more insight into the problems associated with forest management in the Highlands.

In laboratory tests, Dr. Linzon said, researchers have subjected plants to simulated acid rainfall with a pH (measure of acidity) as low as 3.0. And those tests have indicated that extreme levels of acidity in rainfall can stunt growth and cause other changes in green plants.

Normal rainfall is slightly acidic, with a pH of 5.6. Acid rain, a phenomenon receiving increasing attention in recent years, occurs when rainfall mixes with the products of industrial and vehicle pollution to form mild sulphuric and nitric acid. The worst acid rainfall "events" ever measured have involved rain with a pH as low as 4.0 "but rarely lower," Dr. Linzon said. The average pH of rainfall in the Haliburton area is 4.4 to 4.3, an average, "well above the level that can cause effects on vegetation," the Ministry researcher told council.

Dr. Linzon said vegetation appears to be the component of the ecosystem that is "the least susceptible" to the effects of acid rain.

Ongoing studies of lakes in Ontario, the United States and Sweden have shown that acidic precipitation can have dramatic effects on lakes in areas that lack natural buffers, (the ability to neutralize the acidity in rainfall). In precambrian, or predominantly hard rock) areas, such as Haliburton County and much of Northern Ontario, acid levels can build up in lakes, increasing the quantity of heavy metals available in the food chain and affecting the ability of fish to reproduce. The end result of increasing acidification can be "dead" lakes, that is, lakes devoid of fish life. And a disturbance of the fish population has the potential to effect land based animals and birds which depend on fish for all or a part of their diet.

The acid rainfall does not however, present any danger to humans, and except for sport fishing, does not affect the use of lakes for recreational activity.

Dr. Linzon said that while there is at present no evidence that acid rain effects plants, he termed it "a potential threat" noting that "the effects over the long term are not readily quantified."

Studies have indicated that the heavy metal levels in both soil and water may rise as a result of acid rain, and that the acidity has the potential to leach out nutrients and bases from the soil.

At least one Swedish scientist has claimed that acid rainfall in that country caused a 0.4 to 0.6 percent loss in productivity in certain forest stands, Dr. Linzon said, but he cautioned that other factors may have been involved, and that a number of other scientists claim to have refuted the evidence for reduced forest productivity.

Ironically, Dr. Linzon said, acid rain may actually act as a fertilizer, providing soil with sulphates and nitrates that can stimulate tree growth.

The old red caboose which was parked on the corner of the C.N. mainline and highway #121 in Haliburton Village made a trip down the tracks last Tuesday to its new home - the Rail's End Station Gallery. A crane was used to lift the car onto the railway tracks, and the caboose was pulled down the line to sit on its new permanent location at the end of the station platform.

Give a Cub a knife and a piece of carving wood, and you'll keep him busy all day. That seems to be the case in this picture as five of the Cubs from the Haliburton Pack whittle away on their sticks. The boys were on the annual father/son camp-out at Haliburton Forest and Wildlife last weekend.

County, education levies the cause

Monmouth budget up 2 1/4 %

Taxpayers in Monmouth township will be paying slightly more for education this year, but can take heart in the fact that levies collected will be less than last year.

The municipal budget, approved last week by Monmouth council, shows an overall increase in the tax rate of two and one quarter percent. Main reason for the increase is a rise in county education costs, an element which has accounted for most of the municipal tax boosts around the county.

The total 1979 budget of $373,540 includes this year's education levy of $98,093, up over last year's $90,158 and the county levy of $25,061, up slightly from last year's $24,727. This year's general municipal budget is set at $250,386, a decrease over last year's actual expenditure of $283,259. The variation from the 1978 projected budget of $274,208 was mainly due to the influx of Young Canada Works and Experience '79 grants, according to clerk Sharon Hunter.

Monmouth residents will also see a slight decrease in township residential and commercial mill rates, but an increase in county and Board of Education mill rates of 46 mills over last year.

Main reasons for the cut-back in the municipal budget are the elimination of capital expenditures for the roads department this year, less labour and materials for arena work, and completion of the township's restricted area by-law.

There is a slight increase in general administration costs over the 1978 budget. Actual expenditures totalled $43,332

Historical Society may get old station building by fall

Somerville Township council has agreed to obtain the old Canadian National Railways station in Kinmount when CN abandons it, the president of the Kinmount Historical Society said this week.

Mark Brelsford said the Society, which was formed following a public meeting earlier this year, has the support of council in a bid to save the old station and find a new use for it.

But the building has not yet been legally abandoned by CN, and will not be until CN obtains permission for the abandonment from the Railway Transport Committee of the Canada Transport Commission. That permission is expected to come as early as this fall.

Federal government regulations state that CN must first offer the station to Parks Canada. If the federal body does not want it, the station will then be offered to the local council, and if council did not want it, the station would be placed up for tender from the public.

Seniors building gets cable

After nearly two months of delays, cable television service is becoming a reality at the new senior citizens housing apartments in Haliburton Village.

Contract delays, complications and an agreement mix-up have been cited as causes of the problems, but Bob Bishop, owner of CATV, the cable company which installs most cable service in the area, declined to comment on the matter.

Indications are that an Acid rain

Dysart et al reeve Murray Fearrey, Dr. Linzon confirmed that adding lime to acid stressed lakes is "very effective" in helping those lakes to recover their normal pH level. But the time will not decrease the heavy metal content in the water, the prime contaminant of fish populations, Dr. Linzon said.

agreement had to be signed by a cable representative before any work could be done in the apartments, and complications arose over the endorsement of the contract. According to Ministry of Housing representative Mary Jane Huffman, the agreement between the Ontario Housing Corporation and the cable company, has now been signed and put into effect.

"There was a number of things that delayed installation," said Dysart et al clerk Wayne Wood. The apartments, he said, were originally to have block or joint cable service installed by the Ministry but the housing authority changed this to individual service when the apartments were half completed and asked CATV to wire the building. This caused further complications in the agreement between the Ontario Housing Corporation and the contractors.

In addition, the Ministry of Housing originally planned to bill the residents but when the wiring problem arose, the cable company found themselves responsible for billing the 35 residents.

"But everything is agreed to now," said Huffman. "What Mr. Bishop and the Ministry of Housing are interested in now is providing a service to the residents of the apartments. It's finally settled and we're very pleased about it."

Correction

The names of two students who earned exemptions in all their subjects were inadvertently left off a list supplied to the Echo by Haliburton Highlands Secondary School last week. Joe Lee, a G2A student, and Jane Hicks, an A1B student, were exempted. In addition, two students listed as exempted, Martha Carnochan A4A, and Kevin Shaperia, A1B, were not in fact exempted from all examinations.

Municipal portion of Monmouth budget down last year, and the 1979 projected budget has been set at $49,000. Reason for the increase, according to reeve Keith Tallman, is an increase in administration expenses and wages.

The municipality has also raised the budget for protective inspections to $17,000 from last year's actual expenditure of $11,352. The extra monies will be used to purchase new doors for the fire hall, a new water truck, and additional costs for the administration and enforcement of the new zoning by-law.

Roads and streetlight expenditures are down significantly, as there are no capital expenditures planned by the municipality this year. The budget has been set at $88,667, down from last year's actual of $107,118.

Environmental services will remain much the same at $4,500, compared to last year's actual of $4,220. Health services will increase slightly to $2,000 over last year's actual of $743, due to a beautification project for the cemeteries the municipality started last year.

The budget for social and family services has risen from last year's expenditure of $14,051 to $17,500. The increase is due to the induction of the cost of living allowance, and an increase in fringe benefits.

In recreation and cultural services, the municipality has managed to trim off $22,720 from last year's expenditure of $90,439. That appeared as an increase over the 1978 projected budget of $74,241, and was due to the obtaining of two Canada Works and one Experience '79 grants, which would not be shown on the 1978 estimate. Also, township buildings such as the arena and the community centre will not need additions or capital expenditure this year, though some work will be done on the library. Only $4,000 has been budgeted for planning and zoning this year, since the municipality has completed the major work for the restricted area by-law. Last year's actual expenditures for planning and zoning totalled $12,004.

Eakins' bill designed to aid small businesses

A private members bill from Victoria-Haliburton MPP John Eakins has received first reading in the Ontario Legislature. Entitled "An Act Respecting Small Business in Ontario", the bill is similar to one Eakins introduced into the legislature two years ago. The earlier bill received two readings, but died on the books when the session ended.

The new bill would set minimum quotas for the awarding of government contracts to small businesses, and would require that all tenders for proposed purchases of more than $5,000 be published in the Ontario Gazette.

Also included in the bill is a requirement that the government develop a small business subcontracting program. Among other things, the program would guarantee that small businesses be "considered fairly as subcontractors and suppliers to contractors performing work or rendering services as prime contractors or subcontractors" under government procurement contracts.

The bill would also require firms awarded government contracts of more than $500,000 to appoint a "small business liaison officer...to be responsible for subcontracting portions of the work to small businesses, wherever possible."

Small business consortia would also be encouraged under the provisions of the bill. Such consortia would be formed and capitalized by a group of small businesses "for the provision of central services, or for the purpose of obtaining...raw materials, supplies, equipment, inventories, or the benefits of research and development, or for establishing facilities to undertake and utilize applied research."

The bill also calls for the establishment of a standing committee of the legislature to be known as the Small Business Committee. Among other things, its purpose would be to monitor and report on "all aspects meriting legislative attention with respect to small business."

There is no indication as to how soon Eakins' bill might receive second reading.

Rockcliffe robbed, man charged

A 38-year old Petawawa man was scheduled to appear in provincial court in Minden Tuesday to face charges of break, enter and theft in connection with an incident at the Rockcliffe Hotel in Minden last Wednesday.

Police say the hotel was entered sometime between 1 a.m. and 7 a.m. through a fire door. An electronic game machine was broken into, causing an estimated $20 damage. Approximately $400 worth of quarters were taken from the game.

The next day police arrested Donald Thomas Gilchrist and charged him.

The weather was a trifle rainy, but that didn't stop the local Cub pack and their dads from heading out into Haliburton Forest and Wildlife for a couple of days of camping last weekend. Here, Derick Beachli shows his stuff in the baseball throw competition, one of the many activities the Cubs participated in. The camp-out is an annual event for the pack, and is usually enjoyed by both dads and sons alike.

Stanhope decides approach

"Council has already decided on an approach," Woods said, "but we would like to check it out with the Fire Marshall's Office." He said the clerk will contact Dupuis, "to see what type of assistance they plan to offer."

Asked if the "approach" council had decided on is one that will focus on the resignations of the former department members and the dismissal of the chief, Woods said, "I won't comment on that at all," adding that council did not "want to let too much out before we start taking action."

Council's fire department representative said he hoped some action could be taken on the matter "within a couple of weeks", adding that "whether it's possible or not is another question."

In the 60 and over class, the winner will take home $40 and a trophy, with second place worth $35, and $30 going to the third place finisher.

Biggest prize money is available in the Open category, where the top fiddler will take home $100 and a trophy. Second prize is $75, with $50 for the third place finisher.

As well, the oldest competing fiddler and the youngest fiddler will each receive $10. Step dancers will also compete for their share of the prize money. In the 18 and under class, first prize will be $35 and a trophy, second prize $30, and $25 for third place.

Dancers 50 and over will get $40 and a trophy for finishing in top spot, $35 for a second place finish, and $30 for third.

A victory in the open class will bring $100 and a trophy, with $75 going to the second place finisher, and $50 available to the third place dancer. The youngest and oldest dancers will also receive $10 each.

Saturday evening beginning at 7 p.m., the top three finalists in each of the fiddle categories and the top three finalists in each of the step dancing categories will compete for the championship honours.

Steps out of car, woman breaks leg

A Brady Lake woman who fell down an embankment after a single car crash Saturday night suffered a broken leg in the incident and was rushed to hospital in Lindsay for treatment.

Police say Joyce Austin, 52, was a passenger in a car driven by Bruce E. Dudman, 58, of Minden who went out of control on the Bobcaygeon Road north of Minden and struck a tree. She stepped out of the car after the accident and tumbled down the embankment, resulting in the leg injury. Dudman also fell down the embankment when he tried to go to Austin's aid. He was slightly injured in the fall when his face struck a tree.

Police have charged Dudman with impaired driving. Damage to the car was estimated at $2,000.

An Agincourt woman suffered minor injuries and was taken to Haliburton hospital following a single car crash on County Road #3 last Tuesday.

Shirley M. Wise, 35, was a passenger in a car driven by Ronald G. Barber, 36, of Toronto, which went out of control on a curve, struck a mud embankment and rolled over. Barber was also slightly injured in the crash, and was taken to hospital in Haliburton for treatment.

Damage to the car was estimated at $1,500.

A 21-year old West Hill man escaped injury Friday morning when the car he was driving went out of control and struck a tree.

Glenn Johnson was west-bound on County Road #13 in Stanhope Township when his car entered the north ditch and struck a tree.

Damage to the car was estimated at $1,000.

A 19-year old Lakefield man was slightly injured early Saturday morning when his car went out of control. OPP say William R. Wellstood was southbound on Highway 35 in Lutterworth Township when he lost control of his car and it entered the west ditch, striking the rock face. He was taken to Minden hospital for treatment.

Damage to the car was estimated at $1,800. Wellstood was charged with careless driving.

An RR 1, Minden woman was slightly injured as a result of a two vehicle crash on Poverty Bay Road in Minden Township Saturday.

Children's Centre director appointed

The Board of Directors of the Corporation of the Five Counties Children's Centre has announced that John G. Connors, M.B., C.D., B.A., M.H.S.A., M.R.S.H., has retired in the rank of captain from the Surgeon General branch of the Canadian Forces Medical Services in order to accept an appointment as the new executive director of the Five Counties Children's Centre in Peterborough.

County gets wish, Minister will be taken for (rough) ride

Ontario's Minister of Transportation and Communications has told Haliburton County council he intends to visit the county in the next three months to take a road tour that local politicians hope will convince him to put more money into road reconstruction in the area.

In a letter tabled at a meeting of county council last Wednesday, James Snow said he makes it a practice to visit as many areas of the province as possible each year, and that he would try to visit Haliburton County before the legislature reconvenes in September. The Minister was responding to a request council agreed on at its May meeting.

Council feels the Ministry has been slow to implement local reconstruction programs, notably on Highway 507 between Gooderham and Buckhorn, and on Highway 519 to Eagle Lake.

Highway 507 in particular, is felt by many area politicians to be a key road for greater access to and egress from the Highlands. At present, several miles of the road are in extremely poor condition, and as a result, Ministry figures indicate that traffic loads on the road are very light. The Ministry has cited the low traffic count figures to justify giving a higher priority to other roads. But council feels the road would see much greater use if it were in better condition. The MTC has said reconstruction of the road is called for near the end of the present five year plan, in 1982 or 1983.

Council decided last Wednesday that it would try to have the Minister attend the September meeting, but agreed to hold a special meeting whenever it would suit Snow's schedule.

The Kinmount Historical Society hopes to obtain the station through Somerville council for the purpose of restoring it for some form of public use that has not yet been decided.

Brelsford said the Society has applied for accreditation through the Ontario Historical Society, and must now decide whether to incorporate or operate under the eegis of the larger body. The decision could affect the process through which the property and funding for the project, are obtained.

Brelsford said the group is proceeding a step at a time, and that a great many questions must be answered before any restoration work on the station can get underway.

"As yet, we're not sure of the fund raising that will be necessary," Brelsford said.

The first problem to be tackled however, is the acquisition of the station building, and both council and the Society must await the Railway Transport Committee decision on the matter.

"It's not a big public issue now, and it's not likely to become one until the fall," Brelsford said.

What did it cost? What does it say?

Last week, Haliburton County officially accepted an Economic Development study of the county written by staff members of the Economic Development Branch of the Ministry of Treasury and Economics. Prepared after months of meetings between civil servants, county council, and members of the private sector, the 90 page document purports to be an examination of "current economic trends and development prospects in Haliburton County." The preface notes that the study "is not meant to be an exhaustive examination of all aspects of the local economy, but rather is directed at some of the major issues confronting the county at this time." Even with the carefully worded apology, the study can only be seen as a disappointment. For the fact is that it contains not one bit of information that was not already known, or easily available from various sources.

When the study was commissioned, county council hoped that it might provide insight into the economy as a whole and suggest solutions to current problems. While it does a reasonable, if uninspired job of responding to the first hope, it decidedly does not live up to the second part of council's expectations.

Much of the information contained in the study was gleaned from studies completed last year by Totten, Sims, Hubicki, in preparing the planning strategy document. The rest came from meetings with people who work or own businesses in the various sectors of the economy. Concisely written and neatly arranged, it still adds up to a waste of the taxpayers' money. But the fault does not lie with county council. It has to lie squarely on the heads of the province's bureaucracy.

Organized into six chapters, the study contains countless banalities parading as useful information. And worst of all, it reaches no significant conclusions.

The study tells us, for example, that "service industries are Haliburton's top employers," that "the manufacturing sectors share of total employment in Haliburton has been steadily declining in recent years," that wood products are "a prime candidate for economic expansion efforts in Haliburton" and that "Haliburton's agricultural potential is limited."

These statements are not the preamble to the study. They are its essence.

It is possible, of course, that the people who worked on the study had a different view of how it would turn out. They may have reached some useful conclusions, and made some intelligent recommendations that somehow got edited out in the bureaucratic process between visits to Haliburton and final publication.

Whatever the reason, the study would seem to have been an unqualified waste of public time and money.

Looking for a new nationalism

Monday, July 1, Canada will officially celebrate its 112th birthday. In anticipation of the event, the federal government is attempting to stir up the interest of the nation through scores of activities from coast to coast. In the end however, it will be the response of each Canadian to the land on which we live and the society we have built that will determine whether or not the nation survives.

Nationalism, when it manifests itself in a feeling of superiority, and a smug vision of right and wrong, can be a dangerous force, as events of this and other centuries have so powerfully demonstrated. But nationalism that means identification with the similarity of experiences and goals of people from coast to coast, can be a positive force.

Canada Week invites us to look at ourselves in a broader perspective than day to day living allows. It asks us to take pride in our differences and to cherish our similarities. It asks us to be tolerant of all Canadians, to appreciate the richness of our history, the burgeoning of our art and literature, and the complexities of our two languages. Canada Week asks a lot, and not all Canadians may be willing, or able, to live up to the ideals that lie behind it. But all Canadians can make the effort to understand that we enjoy a freedom that is rare, and a standard of living that is even rarer.

The nation faces an uncertain future. Next spring, Quebecers will vote on a referendum that could see the end of the country as we know it. Will Canada's 112th birthday be its last?

All of us will have a share in the answer, if we make tolerance and understanding the essence of Canadian nationalism.

Feir Play

by Creighton Feir

The holiday weekend is coming up, school is out and many people will be making preparations to come back to the Highlands of Haliburton for the weekend while others will be coming back to their cottages to stay for the summer months. For many of you it will be the first time that you have had the opportunity to visit our beautiful Highlands and we sincerely hope that you will enjoy your stay here no matter how short it may be and that you will keep coming back. We hope that the weatherman will play ball with us for the coming weekend so that you may enjoy golfing, fishing, boating and the many other summer activities that you like to participate in. If you are here during July and August we can guarantee you that we will have many events and attractions for you in every section of the county. You won't want to miss any of them. We will do our best to treat you royally and we hope that you will enjoy our Highlands hospitality. For many of you who will be coming here for the first time there is a good chance that this will be the first opportunity you have had to read our newspaper; we hope that you enjoy it. So come on back to the Highlands and take advantage of those lazy, crazy, hazy days of summer.

It's beyond me and I would certainly like to know the answer to the question of how we can put a stop to the way that people throw their litter all over the place. It's hard to imagine just what some people are thinking of when they throw pop bottles and beer and liquor bottles out of their cars leaving broken glass on the highway, on the streets, and in other areas. It not only leaves a mess but drivers run over this glass with their vehicles while someone can be badly cut with this broken glass. Just recently at the parking lot beside the Echo office I noticed that someone had broken a bottle and glass was strewn all over the place. We had to go out and clean it up so that people wouldn't be going around with a flat tire. The next time that you decide for nothing better to do, that you are going to break a bottle, stop and think it over.

An Open House was held at YMCA Camp Wanakita near Donald last Sunday. A strawberry supper was held from 3:00 to 6:00 p.m. and all those who attended reported that they had a wonderful time and that the food was just delicious. This is an annual event and it keeps getting more popular each year.

It's a great feeling to see so many people moving back to Haliburton County and taking up permanent residence here. At one time I thought I knew practically everyone in the county but today it's a different ball game. I was in a local supermarket recently and I counted six women doing their shopping and I didn't know one of them. I hope that it won't be very long before I will have the opportunity of meeting each and everyone of them. In my opinion, it's just great to see new people move in with new ideas and jumping in to take a part in the community. We certainly welcome you and hope that you enjoy living here.

In this country of countless lakes and rivers, our summer season naturally finds thousands of vacationers enjoying the pleasures of water sports and aquatic recreation. For those on holiday at the cottage, beach, or resort, the pleasure boat can become as important as the family car. Indeed, Canadians each year make use of approximately one million leisure crafts from canoes and sailboats, to large yachts.

We who live here in Canada should feel might proud that we live in the best country in the world. Granted, we are faced with problems such as unemployment and economical woes and several other issues that we have to deal with, but let's face the facts that many of the problems that are prevalent today are not only in Canada, they are worldwide. In this ever fast moving world, the federal and provincial governments can't seem to get one problem solved before they are faced with many more. It just seems like an ongoing thing. The dailies, T.V. and radio, keep finding us every day with high unemployment figures, the state of the economy, and whether we like it or not, we have turned into a nation of kickers who are out to spread all the gloom and doom that is possible. We must realize that action must be taken on certain big problems and that unemployment will always be with us. We have to feel sorry for all those who want to work but can't find employment, but just think of the thousands who wouldn't take a job if it was handed to them on a silver platter at good wages. We have very little sympathy for those who are willing to sit back and just draw unemployment insurance or welfare where in some cases work is available. It all boils down to this; Canadians have to get down to work. The honeymoon is over. Just think of what we have here in Canada in comparison with other countries around the world and count your many blessings.

The Ontario government is pushing the tourist industry this year with plenty of advertising with the slogan, "Treat Our Visitors Royally". We who live and make our living here where tourism is our main industry should be going all out to see that our visitors are made to feel at home so that they will want to come back again and again. If we are going to make this work we are going to have to start at home.

Did you know that the development of a new product is a three step process: first, an American firm announces an invention; second, the Russians claim they made the same discovery twenty years ago; third, the Japanese start exporting it.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

As a long time subscriber to your paper, one cannot help noticing that Creighton Feir is not always in agreement with his fellow Haliburtonians on the kind of service they provide to the summer population. The lack of good service to the summer residents, he seems to think, could stand a lot of improvement. And I could not agree with him more. It is my opinion, after having lived in the area for some time now as a summer weekend resident (and more and more as a winter weekend resident), that because of the general attitude, Haliburton never will become a Huntsville or a Parry Sound. And not because of lack of their beauty, which is just as good or better in the Highlands. As my son always says, one good shopping mall five miles in any direction of Haliburton Village will put the whole town out of business. There seems to be a good deal of contempt for us, perhaps brought on by the knowledge that they depend on us, whereas in more progressive communities there seems to be more appreciation of what side merchants' bread is buttered on.

Here are some examples of how the business community works: Some two years back I decided to add an addition to my cottage. I made the plans, figured it would cost between $4,000 and $5,000, and sent the plans to two local contractors who advertised in your paper. After waiting for over a month I phoned in October to one of them and wondered if he was interested. We worked out a contract for $4,600.00, work could start right then and it would be complete way before Christmas when we were planning to use it. It was completed in March. I never got the key for the new front door and the man had gone out of business and could not be found. What stands out here is the general attitude, not knowing the finishing date and where do I go if something goes wrong to see my guarantee honoured. The second construction firm, by the way, never even bothered to acknowledge receiving the letter.

I have on rent from a local hardware store, two large propane gas cylinders for a propane toilet. This spring I have had installed at a cost of $3,049., a septic tank system, shower, etc. thereby

Editor's Notebook

Reading the speeches graduates, parents and friends heard at Haliburton High School's commencement Saturday evening, I was struck by the sense of optimism that pervades all graduation exercises. Inevitably they leave students with a sense both of a difficult ending and a hopeful beginning. Speeches often touch on that duality, and sometimes they do so in a way that makes their message linger long after the event has ended.

Like many people, I've had the good fortune to attend a number of convocations, including two at the University of Western Ontario. I remember the second of those convocations for its pomp and ceremony, for the striking colour of the robes and the sounds of Brahms Academic Festival Overture. But it is the words of Robertson Davies, the speaker at the first of those convocations, that have lingered with me longest.

Playwright, novelist, actor and man of letters, Davies is a modern day renaissance man. His speech, which lasted a little over ten minutes, was a masterly show of erudition, pomposity and just plain cleverness that few men could hope to match. It was his closing remarks however, that have remained with me, and I wouldn't be surprised if they have remained with hundreds of others who were receiving degrees that day.

Tradition, Davies said, dictates that convocation speakers point out the responsibilities facing students who must tote into the world the wisdom and culture they have so recently, and so arduously acquired.

"But I will not make that mistake," Davies said, "and I will not make it for one simple reason." He paused and stared out at his gowned and mortar boarded audience, who sat A before B before C, awaiting their long sought degrees.

"I will not make that mistake," Davies said, "because you and I know so well that you have no wisdom (a long pause for emphasis) and precious little culture."

You could almost hear the shock wave spread over the parents who had come to watch their sons or daughters graduate that day. You could almost hear their illusions about the university education they held in such high regard, begin to crumble. If university was not a place to acquire wisdom and culture, what was it?

Not a few of the students were also shocked, but for a different reason. It was a shock of recognition, and it brought smiles to scores of faces. Yes, Davies was right, we nodded to each other. We had no wisdom. And we had certainly acquired precious little culture.

University, we knew, wasn't a place where such things are acquired, because neither are found in textbooks. It was a place, rather, where a student could realize the extent of his ignorance. It was a place to begin a process of learning that would last a lifetime, and that might someday, with effort, perseverance and just plain luck, bring us close to wisdom, and open our eyes to culture.

Schools don't teach students to be wise, and they don't impart an appreciation for culture. Schools merely invite students to develop the tools with which they may become both wise and cultured.

That, I think, is what Robertson Davies meant that day, and it's what the graduates of Haliburton Highlands Secondary School may have realized, in their own way, as they took leave of the school for the last time Saturday evening.

From the Chamber

It's Here!

Yes, ready or not it's here! Many businesses are still working hard to get ready for that summer season that looms as an oncoming deadline for completion of renovations and alterations - and now it's here and it's already too late to complete some of what we had intended to do.

At the Chamber it means that the bulk of our promotional work is now in place and it is now a matter of waiting to see how effective it will be. We too have not completed everything as planned as we still await delivery of our post cards and county road maps.

Our travel counsellors are now on duty at all the information centres and are anxious to help our visitors find answers to their many questions. Ev Perrin and Lorrie Mosgrove, who are working at the Haliburton Caboose, had a little difficulty keeping up with the location of their place of employment last week as the municipality suddenly decided to move the caboose adjacent to the Guild Gallery Station. It is now business as usual however, in much more suitable surroundings for the Caboose Information Centre.

Busy Summer For Guild

The Haliburton Guild of Fine Arts have an extremely busy summer ahead of them since in addition to the many usual activities they are always involved in they are working towards the opening of the Station Gallery at the newly restored C.N. Station. They are presently gathering items for a Guild Auction to be held August 4 in aid of this project. Items may be submitted either by way of donation or on consignment at 20 percent commission to the Guild. For more information call 457-2404.

eliminating the need for the tanks. Before, when I needed any gas, I would phone and a young lad would bring me a new one. Now, when I phoned to have the tanks removed the owner pretended not to know where my cottage is, and said I should draw a map, send it to the propane company in Fenelon Falls so that they could pick the tanks up. You see, picking up empty tanks does not bring in any money. But what about public relations? I for one will never be in that store again and only the good Lord knows how much money I have dropped off there.

Just look through this letter and count how much money we leave behind. And that does not even include the everyday cost of food, hardware, gas, insurance, you name it, the list is endless. We are members of your organizations and pay our dues. We buy tickets for all three cars to be drawn. It seems an endless stream, but all going one way. We pay our taxes and have to be thankful if the road gets graded once a year. We ruin our boats and motors and have them repaired here and when we ask to have dangerous rock or stumps removed, township people try to shift responsibility to this or that department. We order $1,000 worth of wood and get it three weeks after the promised date. And when one complains, you can almost read in their eyes, "You city folks, always in a hurry!" Sure, we are always in a hurry. Look what we have. Friday nights we fight the traffic for three or four hours but when we get to our place, it was worth it. Saturday is for working, and boy, if the promised material is not there, that blows the weekend. Sundays we relax. You see, we have not that many Saturdays and we cannot say: Oh, tomorrow is another day. No, we have to wait a week.

However, this take it or leave it attitude, this "We have you over the barrel anyway" might soon change. Our cottage associations are getting stronger and are working together. We will gather information on good deals and bad deals and if a pattern exists, publish recommended sources and places to stay away from. We are planning to become and have already been more active in voting. We don't like members up for election staying so close to the polling booths that it almost looks like intimidation, not to speak of the fact that they might be violating the law. In short, we will be more careful where our money is going to wind up and have some say in where it is going to be spent.

We don't want to be treated royally because some government tells business people to do it. All we want is to be treated as they would like to be treated.

Pic of the Past

Few people today will recall when Kinnmount was quite an active industrial site. Our Pic of the Past this week shows a thriving Barrel Stave factory in operation around 1902. It was located about a mile north of the village on land between what is now Highway #121 and the Burnt River. The old concrete steam vats are all that remain of an industry that once contributed to the busy area in and around Kinnmount. Photo courtesy of Harry Davis whose grandfather, James Graham, a stave cutter by trade, moved from Chatham to manage this plant.

Bill Smiley

Had a birthday the other day. Nobody remembered it except me, my wife, and the North American Life Assurance Company.

I, because I was one year older and not dead yet. My wife for roughly the same reason. And the insurance company likewise. They don't have to pay off that thousand dollars, and can go on investing, at huge interest rates, that $12.00 annual premium my mother made me take out when I was sixteen.

We all reacted differently. The insurance company sent me a 30-cent birthday card, signed by a guy I never heard of. He's about the eighth agent who has wished me a happy birthday, over the past four decades. I've probably outlived the other seven.

My wife, at a loss to buy a gift for the man who has everything, bought me a stapler. Very good. I am constantly coming home with masses of essays to mark, none of them stapled together. As a consequence, I am constantly getting pages of one student's essay mixed in with pages of another student's essay, with discomfiting results.

For example, on page 4 of Joe's essay, he finds written, "Well said, Linda. An excellent parallel." And on page 7 of Linda's essay, she might find, "Right to the point, Joe."

It is embarrassing, confusing, and stupid. Now, with a stapler, their essays will be all in one piece, though it's quite possible they will find a piece of finger-skin stapled to the essay. I'm not much good with complicated machinery.

Not to be outdone on my birthday, I bought myself a present - a couple of fair belts of a well-known arthritis reliever. It comes in a brown paper bag, and, thanks to a greedy provincial government, is a leader in the inflation rate.

The card was innocuous. The stapler didn't do much harm either, except for the two staples I put into my thumb while trying it out. A little thumb-sucking, not at all an unpleasant activity, cured that.

It was my own present that did the damage. Carried away by a flood of birthday sentimentality and malt, I decided to take my daughter, grandsons, and wife on a trip this summer.

I felt a warm flood of kinship or something, and made up my mind that I was going to visit my ain folk, show off my clever and beautiful daughter to aunts and things who haven't seen her since she was in diapers, and proudly parade my grandboys to great-aunts, second cousins, and anyone else who would look at them, or put up with them.

This wasn't so bad. It's not far out or weird to take your mob for a camping-visiting trip. At the time, it seemed a great idea. Even my old lady was luke-warmly interested. My daughter was excited. The boys were ecstatic.

Ah, yes. A sweep down and around old Ontario. Through Algonquin Park, camping amid the bears and deer and hooligans. Visit my niece at Pembroke, who has a kid the right age, five. Dig out old reclusive Don McCuaig at Renfrew and catch some trout in his pond. Across the Ottawa River at Portage Du Fort, and a visit to their great grandmother's home, sitting on an island, high above the river. Drop in on their great uncle

Ivan, at his beautiful rustic retreat on Calumet Island. Then to Green Lake, on the Quebec side, where I spent the happiest childhood summers. Down along the river to Ottawa, and cousins galore. Maybe drop in on Joe Clark and give him a tip or two. Then to Perth, where I grew up.

Show the boys the swimming-place where I won prizes, the park where I kissed girls, the sandpit where I had my first smoke, the old Presbyterian manse where I learned to swear (from listening to my father, ear against the pipe, as he cursed the furnace).

Then a swing down to the St. Lawrence Seaway, see another sister, and then the long swing home, camping and cooking out, and detouring to things like Niagara Falls, the weekly newspapers' convention in Toronto, the Stratford Festival, and any zoos or points of interest along the way.

Now, I didn't say all these things. But they're starting to build up.

Report from Queen's Park

by MPP John Eakins

Driving schools in Ontario would be regulated and licenced by the government under proposed legislation, with driving instructors required to obtain a special licence after passing a test approved by the Ministry of Transportation and Communications. Schools would also require a licence, except those affiliated with an educational institution.

Liberal Leader Stuart Smith has charged that the Chief Counsel for Ontario's Royal Commission on Food Discounts should be fired because he is protecting supermarket chains instead of digging out the facts. Both Opposition Parties have denounced comments made by the lawyer, who said he would not make public details about discounts and allowances given to stores by food suppliers because it might hurt the competitive position of stores.

According to the Attorney-General, the police are stepping up their fight against the power of Ontario's biker gangs. Charges against gang members in 1979 already exceed 1978 totals, when 370 bikers were charged with a total of 440 offences. He also vowed to monitor a Hamilton court case in which members of a biker gang called the Wild Ones are charged with rape. There have already been two attempts to kill a female witness scheduled to testify in the case.

A Conservative motion to have a select committee investigate the safety of Rolphoton nuclear station passed by a slim margin, over pleas to delay the start of the plant's operation. The station, located 190 km. north west of Ottawa, is building up to full power, and the investigation will not interfere with the schedule to begin its operation. "They're pulling out the control rods even as we debate a matter as serious as this," warned former Liberal Leader Robert Nixon. There have been 18 shut-downs at Rolphoton since 1978 - three for routine maintenance and 15 forced closings. Hydro recently admitted that a stuck valve in the emergency core cooling system which had put it out of commission had gone undetected for up to 45 days. Hydro officials have also acknowledged that one of the biggest spills of radioactive heavy water in the history of Canada's nuclear power program occurred at Pickering generating station near Toronto almost four months ago, but the public was not informed. On June 15, during a routine refuelling operation, a fuelling machine hydraulic ram stalled and remains stuck to the fuel channel. The reactor is to be shut down so that local controls may be used to retract it.

Developments in connection with Hydro's nuclear program continue to be very much in the news, and I'd like to summarize these for you soon. Hydro seems to be almost out of control in so many ways, because of lack of true accountability - its over-expansion and extravagant spending policies, its entire nuclear program. Somehow, we must acquire a degree of control.

Minden recreation committee wants diamond for Ingoldsby

The Minden recreation committee is recommending that Anson, Hindon and Minden council consider establishing a baseball diamond in Ingoldsby. At a meeting Thursday, the committee passed a resolution asking council to consider building the diamond "for the convenience of the children in that area."

In other matters at the meeting, the committee decided, with respect to the disco dancing scheduled for June 30, July 28, August 4 and August 25 at the arena and auditorium, that the lessee will be required to pay all costs of the bar, i.e. ice, permit, bartender, cups, mix, liquor and beer from the gross receipts, and that the committee will receive 30 percent of the net profits.

A discussion was held concerning the possibility of constructing a walkway down the steep bank to the ball diamond. Lyle McKnight and Phil Nicholls agreed to investigate the possibility.

The committee also decided to ask council to apply calcium chloride to the road servicing the ball diamond

"as soon as possible" due to what it termed, "excessive dust conditions."

The Ministry of Natural Resources was given permission to host a ball tournament July 28 with July 29 as a rain date, and that the Minden ball diamond will be reserved for that purpose. The permission is on condition that the tournament does not conflict with any games previously scheduled by Minden ball teams.

The committee was advised that roller skating has proved very popular, with an average of 125 participants on Monday and Wednesday, and 170 on Friday nights. More skates are required, and Phil Nicholls confirmed for the committee that more skates should be available by mid-July. A price list was also ordered for the committee's use. The group noted that proper supervision is an absolute must to prevent loss of the rental skates.

A battle of the pitchers in Ladies league

by Helen Burk

Monday night Minden travelled to West Guilford to come up against some tough pitching by Nancy Brink. At the end of the fourth inning, West Guilford had a 7-0 lead but the Minden batters finally got some hits and came up with seven runs in the top of the fifth inning and six in the top of the sixth to win 13-10. Heather Thompson was three for five at the plate for Guilford while fine fielding by Lyn Winans and clutch hitting by Marg Fielding and Diane Warnes helped the Minden team win. Patty Lou Vasey was the winning pitcher while Nancy Brink took the loss.

On Tuesday evening the Stanhope ladies travelled to Minden and these two teams always come up strong against one another. At the end of the third inning, Carnarvon was ahead 11-7 but in the fourth inning Minden came up with eleven runs and ended up winning 21-15. Rose Barry was three for five at the plate while Wendy Gough had a perfect night going five for five. Minden had great fielding by Joan Paul and Marg Fielding. Anne Hewson was the winning pitcher while Belinda Brown took the loss.

Wednesday night the Snowdon Angels played their final game against the West Guilford team. Snowdon wanted to get back at West Guilford for the 50-0 trimming the week before and came up with a stronger game, being defeated 32-15 this time. Audrey Vick was the losing pitcher. Colleen Bacon had a good night for Snowdon while West Guilford were led by Laurel Austen and Gail Teasdale.

Also Wednesday night Haliburton travelled to Wilberforce to take on the Wilberforce team for the first time this year. The Haliburton team came up with another good offensive and defensive game coming away with a 28-1 win.

Thursday night was quite a game at Haliburton with West Guilford and Haliburton playing. The final score was 9-8 for Haliburton, keeping their unbeaten string going. The two Nancys had a real pitching duel going, with Nancy Maughan coming up the winner over Nancy Brink.

Thursday night Carnarvon hosted Wilberforce. All Carnarvon needed was Marg Darby pitching and hitting for them. Marg came up with two home runs and Lorna Wilson added another one. Marg Darby was the winning pitcher as Carnarvon won 21-4.

LaRue Motors out in front in men's recreational league with 5-0 record

The LaRue Motors and the Haliburton Legion men's recreational softball teams came jogging off the diamond at Memorial Park, the winners last Wednesday night.

The LaRue squad, unbeaten after five games, took early command in the first game of the night. Following a run in the top of the first inning by Curry's, LaRue's replied with two runs, accomplished through the efforts of Sid Cooper, who notched a double after one out. Derrell Stamp and Brian Mulholland were the two brought home from Cooper's hit.

After the first inning, the game, though close, was dominated by the stronger LaRue team. Paul Dawson scored a run in the bottom of the second, as did Brian Mulholland after Scott LaRue punched one into left field for a double. That left the score at four runs to one in LaRue's favour, and that's the way it remained for the rest of the game. Doubles were later batted by Sid Cooper, Tom Curry and John Robinson for LaRue's, though none resulted in scoring plays.

The winning pitcher was Sid Cooper, while Mark Schell took the loss.

In game two of the night, the Haliburton Legion and Haliburton Lumber locked horns. The Legion took the opposition by surprise, scoring three quick runs in the first inning through the batting efforts of Hugh Nichol, Bernie Nicholls and Mike Rae. Both Nichol and Nicholls as well as playing coach Dick McLean, scored the runs.

The Legion squad went up another run in the bottom of the third inning when Phil Smith sliced a double into right field after Mike Rae, Randy Barry and Craig Wood received walks. Rae scored the run.

Haliburton Lumber came back in the top of the fourth inning when Tony Salvatori scored after singles by Bob Nichol and Ken Lewis. McLean did some slick stealing in the fifth inning for the Legion, and scored after Andy Salvatori laced a triple into centre field. Another point was added when Hugh Nichol, on base following a walk and a steal, was brought in by a single off the bat of McLean.

Haliburton Lumber again attempted a do-or-die rally in the bottom of the seventh inning following a flurry of ground singles by Lewis, Jim Scheffee, Derwin Barry and Walt Prime. Dwight Sisson brought the two players home when he smashed a triple into right field. But the team was three runs short of a tie, and the Legion won the game by a score of 6 to 3. Bernie Nicholls was the winning pitcher, as Dale Robinson and Dwight Sisson shared the loss.

Standings in men's recreational softball have the LaRue team on top with five wins and no losses, while Curry Motors is in second place with three wins and two losses.

Haliburton Legion has two wins and three losses. Haliburton Lumber is on the bottom of the standings with one win and four losses.

The LaRue Motors and the Curry Motors men's recreational softball teams came jogging off the diamond at Memorial Park the winners last Wednesday night.

Province okays annual season on raccoons

Ontario will introduce an annual season on raccoons this fall in an effort to upgrade pelt quality, Natural Resources Minister James A.C. Auld said this week. The new regulation takes effect July 1.

Currently there is no season on raccoons, but when the new regulation comes into effect, raccoons can only be hunted or trapped from October 15 to December 31 in any year.

Auld said he would like to assure farmers that the new season will not prevent them from removing nuisance animals that eat their corn or cause other damage.

Helping others a way of life for Ivan Hunter

Blinded in an explosion, he spent decades teaching others to accept their handicap

by Joe Banks

Realizing the man's handicap, it's difficult to believe he's done so much to help so many people.

But once Ivan Hunter finishes explaining all the things he has done to help the blind cause, it all fits into place. It makes sense.

Mr. Hunter, 67, is a certified blind person, and he has been involved with various groups and agencies since he lost his sight in an explosion in 1936. Retired, and living a quiet life with his wife, Ileen in their home near Gooderham, he has a host of memories of his days of working with the blind.

He still maintains an active role in the community, as president of the Glamorgan Senior Citizens Club, and was involved in local politics years ago, serving as councillor and reeve during the '50's.

His career as a blind worker began in 1938, after rehabilitation training, when he operated a canteen in Windsor. He married Ileen in 1939, and his first association with other blind persons came in 1941, when he organized a blind persons club in Windsor, and was president for the first three or four years of the club's operation. He soon became employed at the Chrysler plant there, where he worked until 1946. The Canadian Council for the Blind was organized in London, Ontario in 1944, and Mr. Hunter played an important role in its development as a director on the board. He and his wife moved to Gooderham in 1946, and he became involved in electrical work as a part-time telephone lineman. In those days, he recalls there were "32 phones on one line."

He ran for municipal councillor, and was elected, serving in 1948, '49 and '50. After losing the year before, he was elected reeve of Glamorgan municipality in 1952. The following year he lost again but won the reeveship back in 1954, the year the high school issue came up. Students were then attending high school in Lindsay, but ratepayers generally felt the new school in Haliburton would raise the taxes substantially. Consequently, Mr. Hunter, who was in favour of a county high school, was defeated at the polls the following year.

During all of this time, Mr. Hunter's handicap had little effect on his work. The Ontario division of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind recognized his achievements, and recruited him as a full-time director in the organization in 1956. Since then he has worked as a field secretary and chief administrator in Cornwall and Ottawa districts in following years. He was in charge of the new Ottawa Rehabilitation Centre in 1975, serving as the director until his retirement in 1976.

"I think I was lucky," said Mr. Hunter of his past accomplishments. "After I lost my sight, I more or less wondered about my life... I thought if I gave up, I had everything to lose."

His wife, Ileen, over their marriage "has helped me tremendously." In Mr. Hunter's own words, she is "standing by me, rather than supporting me."

He claims Mrs. Hunter has played an important part in his accomplishments, and his development as a handicapped person. She assists him at functions such as meetings of the senior citizens club, and the couple has grown so accustomed to working with one another to overcome any difficulties he might encounter, that not a thought is given to either of their actions. They've raised three children, and have seen them move from home, but their relationship remains as strong as ever continuing their daily cooperative life as they always have.

Without his wife, Mr. Hunter says, he wouldn't have gone as far as he did in life, because the incentive would have been lacking.

He believes he has done more as a blind person to help other people than he ever would have done had he not lost his sight. And this, he says, is what eases the burden of his own handicap, but the burden was heavy during his years with the CNIB. Often, if the handicapped person he interviewed became depressed, he would become depressed, and would "have to catch myself", to make sure the problems of the person did not affect the purpose of his job.

"I think I was was lucky"

"One of the hardest things we had to do was to get them (blind persons) to accept their handicap." Once that was done, the rest was easy. "We counselled them accordingly."

During all his years associated with the blind, Mr. Hunter says he has noticed that few blind persons will actually use the term "blind" when they begin to realize their handicap. "Sightless" or simply "handicapped" is a common term blind persons use to describe themselves. But as soon as they learn "there are other blind people in the world," says Mr. Hunter, and that some of them hold important positions in businesses, newly blind people will accept the word and its meaning more readily.

Using his own life as an example, one of "the hardest things", Mr. Hunter claims he had to cope with was when he visited with his relations in his younger days. "I felt as if I had a wall around me." Everywhere he went, someone always accompanied him. This changed when another blind person took him out into downtown Toronto. The blind person showed him how to negotiate street corners and boulevards, and he gained a new confidence from the experience.

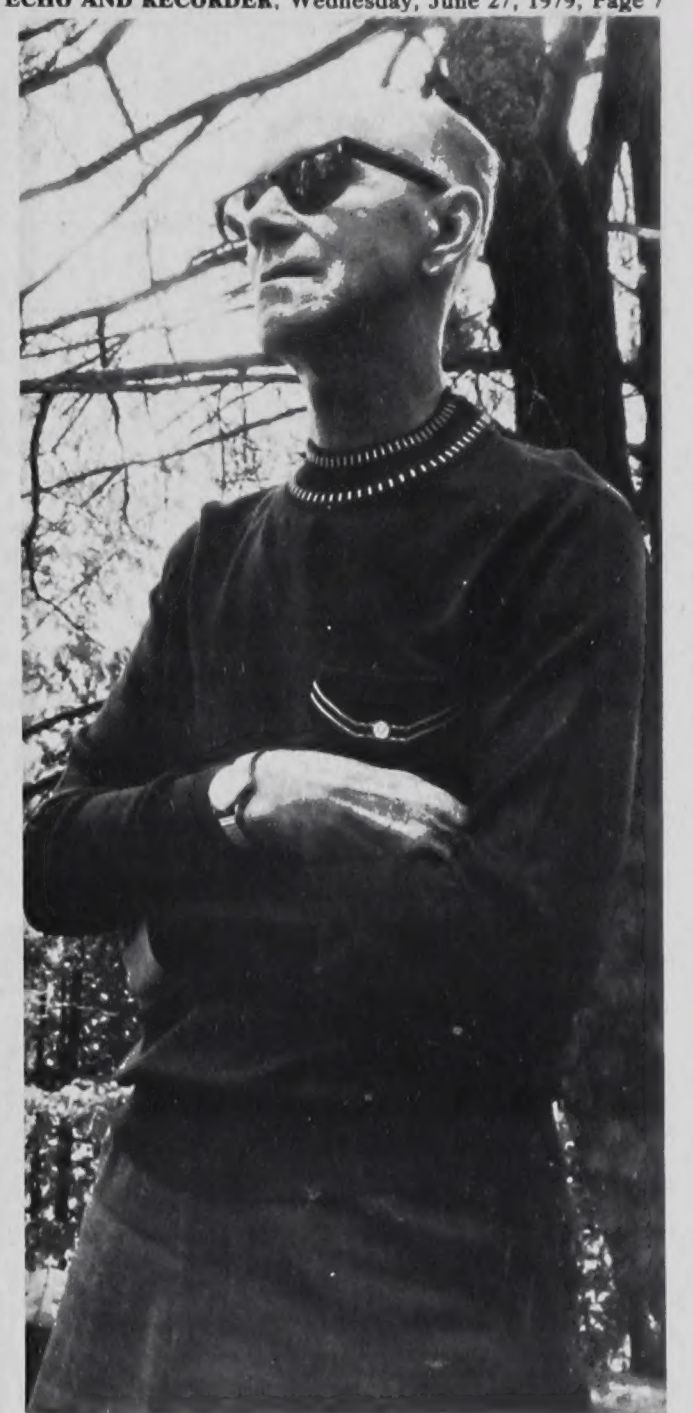

"Through small things like this, you get people to accept their handicap," he says. And this applies to any kind of handicap, Mr. Hunter believes.

His involvement with other people has continued in his present life. As president of the Glamorgan Senior Citizens Club, he is able to stir the thoughts of those around him with his experience. The evidence is the club's fast-growing membership and the enthusiastic attitude members have toward it.

Mr. Hunter is expecting the enrollment to reach 60 very soon.

He claims times have changed for senior citizens, as the club demonstrates, and for the blind, as Ivan Hunter himself demonstrates. "The past 40 years have seen great changes" in treatments and rehabilitation for the blind, and no one knows that more than the man who helped bring that about.

"Today, a blind person is more like a citizen in the community," he says. And as anyone in Gooderham will tell you, Ivan Hunter is proof that some blind people can become leading citizens.

Kawartha Summer Theatre opens July 3

The Fifteenth Kawartha Summer Theatre will open on Tuesday, July 3, with a production of the play "A Bedfull of Foreigners" by Dave Freeman. The play is an English bedroom farce, one of the hits of the London stage in 1976.

"A Bedfull of Foreigners" is directed by Michael Boucher, joining the Kawartha company for the first time. Mr. Boucher is a graduate of McGill and for the past few years has worked in Victoria, B.C., this last season as the Associate Director at the Bastion Theatre there.

Four popular actors from last year's company have returned for the show. Robert Haley, Colin Millar, Judith Goodwin and Brian Tremblay have worked in various parts of Canada during the winter and come back to Lindsay for the summer.

Joining them are three newcomers to the Kawartha, Nancy Kerr, just now finishing an engagement at the National Arts Centre in Ottawa, Bonnie Campbell who returned east after a season in Alberta and Brian George who was seen a short while ago at the Press Theatre in St. Catharines.

The play is designed by Christopher Adeney, resident designer for the company for the last five years.

The Kawartha Summer Theatre is introducing a Young Company this season which will present plays for children each Thursday afternoon beginning July 5. Also a Wednesday matinee will be offered for the first time with low price non reserved seats.

The Theatre took part in the fledgling Victoria County Spring Festival of the Arts this year, offering a new play by a local author. Altogether, the Kawartha Summer Theatre will have offered twelve plays by the end of August, six of which are by Canadian writers.

Unless you worked at least 20 weeks in the past year, these changes could apply to you.

In December 1978, Parliament changed the Unemployment Insurance program. Changes starting July 1 mean that some people will have to work longer before they can qualify for Unemployment Insurance benefits.

Please remember, these UI changes affect only those claims which start on or after July 1, 1979. And, the changes may or may not apply to you. So please read on to see if you are affected.

(You'll find terms such as "Weeks of Work", "Qualifying Period", "Variable Entrance Requirement" (VER), and "Unemployment Rate" marked by an asterisk (*). For easier understanding, see the box "Explaining UI terms" at the end of this message.)

Here are the details of those changes.

Have you worked 20 weeks or more in your Qualifying Period*?

If so, this message does not apply to you. For you, the number of weeks you need to qualify for regular UI benefits and for UI illness and maternity benefits, or the one-time benefit at age 65 has not changed.

Are you working for the first time?

To get UI benefits, you will usually need 20 Weeks' Work*, no matter where you live. An exception to this would be if you were on a training course approved by the Canada

Employment and Immigration Commission for at least 14 weeks in the year before your Qualifying Period*. Then you would only need 10 to 14 weeks, depending on the Variable Entrance Requirement* where you live.

Are you starting to work again?

If you're coming back to work after being away a year or more, you'll usually need 20 Weeks of Work* in your Qualifying Period* before you can qualify for UI benefits.

This applies wherever you live. This 20-week rule won't apply, however, if you were in any of the following situations for a total of at least 14 weeks in the year before your Qualifying Period*.

These are the situations that count:

1. You were getting temporary worker's disability compensation from a provincial program;
2. You were receiving sick or maternity leave payments;
3. You were out of work because of a labour dispute at your place of work;
4. You were on a Commission-approved training course;
5. You were on UI claim;
6. You were working in insurable employment.

So, for first-time workers and those coming back to work:

A. If you were in any of these six situations for a total of at least 14 weeks in the year before your Qualifying Period*, then you need only 10 to 14 Weeks' Work* in the Qualifying Period*, depending on the VER* where you live.

B. If none of the six situations fit your case, you will have to have worked at least 20 weeks to qualify for UI benefits.

NOTE: If you are returning to work after being away more than one year, the 20-week rule will normally apply to you.

Did you get UI benefits in the last year?

If you got UI benefits in your Qualifying Period*, there are new rules that may apply to you - unless the Unemployment Rate* in your area is over 11.5 per cent.

1. If a claim you had in the last year has not run out, you may be able to renew it.

2. If yours is classed as a new claim, you will need the usual 10 to 14 Weeks' Work* depending on your local VER*, plus up to six "extra" Weeks of Work*. The number of "extra" weeks you'll need depends on how many weeks you got on your previous UI claim. You need one "extra" week (up to a maximum of six) for every week you got over the VER* needed in your area.

Here's an example: You need 12 Weeks' Work* in your region (your local VER*) to qualify for benefits the first time. On your last claim, you drew 15 weeks' benefits before going back to work. Now, you would need the usual 12 weeks, plus three "extra" work weeks. (That's the difference between the 12 weeks you needed to work and the 15 weeks of benefits you drew. In total you would need 15 Weeks' Work* to qualify again within one year. The most anyone needs anywhere is 20 weeks of work to qualify.

Again, please remember, when the Unemployment Rate* in your area is over 11.5 per cent, this rule won't apply to you. You'll need only 10 Weeks' Work* to qualify for regular UI benefits.

Other changes have been in effect since January 1979:

- The weekly benefit rate was reduced to 60 per cent of your average insurable earnings (from 66 2/3 per cent).
- Most people employed for less than 20 hours a week are no longer covered by UI.
- Higher-income claimants may have to repay part of UI benefits drawn in the 1979 tax year. This will only affect people whose income, including UI benefits, is over $20,670. This will be explained when you get your 1979 tax return.

These things haven't changed:

Just as a review, these points haven't changed:

- You may still get UI illness and maternity benefits and the special benefit paid at age 65 if you've worked 20 weeks in your Qualifying Period*.
- There's still a two-week waiting period before UI benefits start.
- To get regular benefits, you must still be available for and looking for work each day you are on claim.
- You must report any work and earnings while on claim.

- You can be disqualified from getting benefits for up to six weeks if you quit your job voluntarily, you were fired for misconduct, or if you turned down a suitable job offer.
- You can still appeal a decision by UI to deny you benefits.

Explaining UI terms:

Weeks of Work

This means weeks of work that are insurable for Unemployment Insurance. Most employment of 20 hours or more a week is insurable.

Qualifying Period

What UI calls your Qualifying Period is the 52 weeks before we start your claim. Or if you had a claim in the last year, it's the time since that claim started.

Variable Entrance Requirement (VER)

To qualify for Unemployment Insurance benefits, you must have worked from 10 to 14 weeks in insurable employment during your Qualifying Period*. The exact number of weeks depends on the Unemployment Rate* in the economic region where you live. (See below.) If you don't have enough weeks to qualify when you file your claim, we keep your application in the computer file. If the Unemployment Rate* changes so you then have the weeks you need, we will send you a notice.

Unemployment Rate

For Unemployment Insurance, the Unemployment Rate used for each of the 48 economic regions of Canada is not the current monthly Statistics Canada unemployment rate in each region. It is a three-month average of seasonally-adjusted monthly unemployment rates.

What began as a germ, a one-week swing through the Ottawa Valley, has turned into a three-week Grand Tour.

My first thought was scrounging on relatives, with the odd night in motel rooms. A modest trip. Then I began to realize that two motel rooms would be at least fifty bucks a night. And also that five of us can't come crashing in on some poor aunt who has one spare bedroom.

I'm too old for tenting on the old camp-ground, with an insomniac wife and two kids who would be pulling out the tent-pegs as fast as I drove them. And things that go bump in the night.

So the answer seems to be a camper, one of those great, ugly things that pollute the highways and drive other drivers crazy.

That's going to be a couple of hundred bucks a week, plus grub and gas and everything that goes with it. It's going to cost me more than a trip to Europe. I shoulda stood in bed on my birthday.

HHSES says goodbye to graduates

by Joe Banks

Long dresses and suits were the order of the day, in the gymnasium of Haliburton Highlands Senior Elementary School last Friday afternoon when the school's annual Grade 8 graduation ceremonies were held. Some 80 youngsters will be making the jump into Grade 9 next year, a substantial decrease over last year's graduating class of 117.

Principal Doug Devolin gave the welcoming address and introduced guest speaker, Stuart Baker, principal of Archie Stouffer Public School in Minden. Baker told close to 70 parents and the graduating students that "times have changed," and read excerpts from a book that told of the cruelty and mistreatment of children during the industrial revolution in England.

"I wanted to share with you ideas about the rights and conditions young people live under," said Baker, who discussed the significance of the declaration of the rights of children invoked by the United Nations in 1959. He said that though adults are "doing a good number of things this year," to help celebrate the International Year of the Child, the true meaning of the year is "young people helping young people."

He congratulated the students for the successful completion of their read-a-thon, which saw a total of 1900 books read, and over $3,000 dollars raised. Turning the speech to the importance of more learning, Baker said the rights of children "can be compared to electricity," - it is continually generated as it's being used, and it's up to each young person to "keep generating those rights or they will be lost." He added that rights must be accepted with responsibility, a giving in return of what is received, such as affection and love. "In our culture," he said, "most of us aren't as good at showing affection as are people in other countries. They show affection much more readily." Mr. Baker then put the audience through an amusing exercise in which they were required to turn to the person next to them, and hug or kiss them or tell each other something about themselves.

Following the Archie Stouffer principal's address, the grade eight honour roll was read by Mrs. Leona Carter. On the roll were:

Nancy Bagg, Glen Clarke, Dana Colliver, Jeff Dawson, Chris Hartin, Susan Milne, Lynne Stamp, Leigh Street, John Teljeur, Jennifer Williams and Jennifer Woods.

Valedictorian Nancy Bagg produced laughter from the graduating class as she described some amusing events she and the other students experienced over the year. She also thanked the teachers for their patience and perseverance.

Highlight of the evening, the presentation of the special awards, came after Ms. Bagg's address.

Many thanks to our Guild choral society, under the direction of Mrs. Marilyn Stouffer, for a wonderful concert on June 13 at the Christian Education Building of Carnarvon United Church. Appearing also were Miss Melissa Stephens, flutist, and Mr. Bill Gliddon, pianist. Our thanks to them for an excellent performance. We appreciate the many hours spent by these musicians in preparation for this fundraising evening. The choir will be appearing again at the opening night of the summer exhibition and sale to be held at the Haliburton Highlands Senior Elementary School on Friday, July 6 at 7:30 p.m., and also at the official opening of the new Guild headquarters - "Rails' End Gallery" following the dinner at Sir Sam's Inn, Eagle Lake on Saturday, July 14 at 9:00 p.m.

Mrs. Ed Mirvish, so well-known for the beautiful restoration of the Royal Alexandra Theatre in Toronto, will take part in the afternoon ceremony along with representatives of the C.N.R., our reeve, and as special guests, the men who actually worked with the old station house. Preparations are in full swing for our summer exhibition and sale, to be held from July 6, 7:30, through to July 17 from 11 a.m. - 9 p.m. and Sundays from 1 p.m. - 4 p.m. We invite you to come and see this outstanding display of art and crafts, in the air-conditioned Haliburton Highlands Senior Elementary School. All our creative work this summer will be juried. We are happy to have an excellent panel of professionals: Mr. Robert Short, teacher of enamelling at the Haliburton Highlands School of Fine Arts, now a part-time resident at Maple Lake; Mrs. Barbara Morrow, a Regional Director of the Ontario Craft Council, in Haliburton for the summer months. For the youth of our county we have selected a Summer Theatre program commencing on the International Year of the Child, and the admission for students is only $1.50 and pre-schoolers are free. Our first production will be held Sunday, July 1, when Theatre Aquarius presents "Alice in Wonderland" at the high school in Haliburton at 8:00 p.m. We need to have much more local support for these Summer Theatre evenings, otherwise it will not be possible to continue them next year. So - everyone, invite your young friends, and bring them to all the programs booked this summer.

There are, already, items on hand for the auction sale on August 4 at "Rails' End Station Gallery". If you have articles of value which you wish to sell, they can be put in the sale on consignment. The auctioneer is good, there will be a large crowd, and returns should be excellent. Donations of the extras in your storerooms, kitchens and children's playrooms will be appreciated. Many of our local craftspeople are donating pieces made specifically for this event.

The Station Gallery will soon be open so that articles may be left there for the sale.

Bloatarians hold first meeting at Bonnie View

by Betty Perugino

The newly formed Bloatarians held their first meeting on Thursday, June 14 at Bonnie View Lodge. After the opening greetings and a delicious dinner, a tour of the grounds and some of the buildings was taken, followed by an enthusiastic discussion and coffee in the main dining room. Everyone present agreed that the inaugural session was a resounding success and looks forward to the next meeting in the near future.

Senior League by Linda English

Last week was Senior Citizens week again and here at Hyland Crest we certainly had a busy time. On Saturday, June 16, Vivian Taylor with her ballet class put on a very good program in the auditorium. They first showed us the fundamentals of ballet and then ended the program with a skit. The residents enjoyed very much the performance by the children and marvelled at their talent and perseverance.

Saturday was a very special day for Mrs. Ethel Boice who celebrated her birthday. She was presented with a birthday cake at lunch time and spent the rest of the day with her family.

Monday morning we had our regular fun and fitness program, and in the afternoon our ladies went to work on their crafts.

Tuesday began with a spiritual note, when Rev. Douglas Miller of Minden United Church led us in an inspiring service.

GRADUATION

Marianne Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Miller of RR 1, Haliburton, graduated from Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology with an honour diploma in Food Service Supervision recently. Marianne is presently employed by Mr. Fogg's Fine Foods in Carnarvon.

At 5:30 p.m. we held our annual over 70's dinner. Mark Schell and his staff served a delicious roast beef dinner with all the trimmings. Mrs. Bursey and a well organized group of volunteer workers waited on tables and served the beverages. Our thanks to all those who helped make the dinner an event to remember.

After dinner, we were entertained by Bill Payne and the Kinsmen Ding-a-lings. The group was made up by Bill Payne, Warren Payne, Eldon Deacon and an Italian waiter, who is the administrator of Hyland Crest. They put on a very amusing show and everyone thoroughly enjoyed their antics. One resident said, and I quote, "We certainly laughed our supper down."

We were pleased to have some of our committee members and the Warden of Haliburton County attend our dinner. There were about 160 guests from all over Haliburton County. Among them were two couples married 57 years and two couples married 59 years and their attendants. They were congratulated by Miss Doris Robertson, activities supervisor.

All in all the over 70's dinner was a very successful event, and a very enjoyable time was had by all who took part.

Wednesday morning, we cookies, cakes and tarts.

Fortunately, the rain held off until we had finished our lunch. We loaded the bus and headed for home when the rain stopped. Because it was early in the afternoon we decided to go for a tour. We went through the scenic town of Dorset out to Baysville, then turned and went to Huntsville. We stopped at the Tasty Cream for an ice cream cone before continuing our journey home. It turned out to be a nice day after all and everyone enjoyed their outing very much. This is an annual picnic which is held during Senior Citizens Week, and everyone looks forward to meeting with the Pines Residents, and enjoying a day away from home.

It has been a very busy week at Hyland Crest, but a very enjoyable one and already we're looking forward to next year's Senior Citizens Week.

had fun and fitness in the auditorium. We had a real good turnout, and as a result had an especially good game of "kick the ball". Wednesday afternoon, while the ladies worked on their knitting, the gentlemen enjoyed a game of carpet bowling. After their activities, the men joined the ladies for tea and goodies in the craft room.

Thursday afternoon the Hyland Crest Auxiliary served tea biscuits with cheese and ice cream cones for dessert at our tea party. These ambitious ladies do so many good things for us at Hyland Crest too numerous to mention. We deeply appreciate all their help.

Friday, several residents went to the lookout in Dorset for a picnic. We met with the senior citizens from "The Pines" home for the aged in Bracebridge. Everyone shared and enjoyed the delicious assortment of sandwiches,

Preparation Near Completion For Lift Lock Anniversary
Trent-Severn Waterway staff are busy with final spruce-ups of the Peterborough Lift Lock, in preparation for the famous structure's 75th anniversary.

A reviewing stand is being trucked from Cornwall for the Governor General's visit July 4.

A multitude of details from megaphones to parking plans are under final checks for the extensive sports events scheduled for the weekend of July 7 and 8. Boaters are being advised of minor delays at the Lift Lock while bathtub races, steam boat processions and log rolling contests are underway.

Water Control
Drier weather the week ending June 18 resulted in the reservoirs declining in storage from 100.8 percent to 98.2 percent. By Thursday, June 21, the decline was causing the Kawartha's to drop into the navigation ranges despite reduction of Otonabee River outflows to minimum.

On June 21, then, the reservoir flow was increased and the first draw off of stored water for 1979 began.

At this writing, a rainfall of 16.5 mm has improved the Kawartha levels somewhat and, with the extra flow from Haliburton, weekend levels should be good everywhere.

Extendicare News

by Dr. W.O. Anderson

We finally admitted one of our wheeled planters into the activity room to facilitate the culture and propagation of plants that have a low tolerance to the direct sun, and there are a great number in that category. Among those were the various plants sent to us from the Haliburton Senior Citizens Club, while another group are the terrariums that tend to add some focus to the sun which no plant can tolerate. Terrariums are interesting, as for instance any of the Haliburton children are no doubt familiar with the wintergreen plant that grows in the bush, that first has little white flowers, and later red berries that have a very strong pleasant wintergreen flavour. In a terrarium these plants will do all those changes while you watch, and once it is started it requires very little care; only water once or twice a month.

Tuesday arrived, the beginning of Nursing Home Week with bingo in the afternoon at which the public participated as well as ourselves. It was a little slower because instead of running three bingos to a game this time there was only one. The second last game required an X end, the last a full card. It added variety and was enjoyable.

In the evening Mrs. Pat Burk bussed us to The Hyland Crest Senior Citizens' Home in Minden for dinner and quite a treat it was, a simple roast beef meal for the elderly, with trimmings and tea or coffee. Entertainment followed by the Kinsmen Ding-a-ling band of Minden with participation by the audience using guitars, a wash board and a wash tub as musical instruments. The music was executed by Bill Payne and his son Warren, guitars, Eldon Deacon, guitar, Syd Brown washboard and wash tub with a droopy moustache. Finally the Hyland Crest band came on to add side effects, background and spurious notes and was made up of Mrs. Ellen Holden, Mrs. May Spence, Mrs. Doris Robertson, vocalist, Mrs. Alice Cox and Mrs. Greta Nesbitt. It was hilarious fun and everyone enjoyed it. Need we mention that we were given a nice address of welcome by the warden of the Provisional County of Haliburton. Mr. Syd Brown, besides his fun capers, as administrator of Hyland Crest, gave us a nice address of welcome as well at the start of our evening.

In the afternoon we learned of the death of John Kinnear, one of our original Happy Gang members. Unfortunately, during most of his stay with us he seemed unable to get the enjoyments out of life as he would have liked. Our sympathy goes to his relatives and many friends.

Wednesday, the day of the bake sale and bazaar, arrived and with Mrs. Pat Burk in Charge, all was in order. These affairs not being spectacular, we can only report that it was successful with the minimum of leftovers. There was an excellent turnout of volunteer helpers without which it could have spelled failure.

Mr. Ashley Lunham of Minden was admitted this afternoon adding one to our Happy Gang. Soon he will be an active participating member.

Once again a van unloaded a consignment of trinkets, varieties and notions at Extendicare in the name of Reva's World. Reva Draper of Willowdale, the consignee planned to exhibit these to the Happy Gang, the staff of Extendicare, and to the visiting public as part of the Nursing Home week, for sale. There were jewellery trinkets, useful household and boudoir items and many more so varied and assorted to make an exhaustive list. It may be argued that such intrude on local outlets, but when our wheelchairs are considered, or that we residents are not as mobile, it becomes a sort of 50/50. This was a nice display and well done.

On our Thursday walk we found a couple of quite miniature sized plants for our terrarium, and as we proceeded, observed the landscape along Park Street, ever changing if you can believe from one walk to the next. The new sidewalk near Maple replacing the old rickety wooden trestle is very nice. There has been a good catch of white clover here which has an excellent chance of taking over from all other vegetation, and would besides provide honey bees with some pasture. It would truly be Park Street if a blanket of white clover could be obtained along its length and width except of course, the black top, in which case the residents could opt either for green grass in contrast, or a white clover landscaping.

Mr. Jim Cooper of the Gideons International in Canada was our spiritual leader for our Friday morning devotional period, his wife Doris, a volunteer usher among us. The theme was "The son of God came into the world to save that which was lost", meaning of course, us. The pianist for our singing of the hymns was Mrs. Kim Brown, a Christian neighbour.

There were two movies Friday afternoon: 1. British Columbia and 2. Ontario; both films to promote tourism and showing the interesting highlights of each province. The cinematography was good except there was a tendency to skip certain scenes though they were hurried.

Saturday was another big day at Extendicare, the last of Nursing Home Week with further sales of notions, but the big attraction were the strawberries to be served with cream and sugar, and were they crisp and tasty. We had a nice attendance, and because of the dismal weather, it was held inside. The attendants kept busy dishing out the strawberries and cream, including the many gracious volunteer helpers, without whom we could not cope. An added feature besides the sumptuous main course were the delicious cupcakes, differing in variety as they differed in toppings. Not to be outdone, our kitchen top super chef, Mrs. Darlene Darby, excelled herself to make this party the great success that it was.

Sunday afternoon, Lt. Mailman, successor to Capt. Barry, and his wife, Linda, in the company of several of his officers - C.S.M. Francis Noble and his wife Norma, Miss Anne Edwards, Mrs. Amelia Sibley, Mrs. Lillian Hague, and Mrs. Mary Henry, as part of his visit to Extendicare, provided us with the pleasure of a singing of hymns. It seems to have become a tradition.

In the evening we had a surprise visit by Mrs. Gerane Bonyun and her husband Joe, who himself gave us a brief delightful piano recital of many of our sacred songs. Mrs. Bonyun gave us a very nice solo to her own accompaniment. It was a nice session but all too brief. Thank you kindly.

The senior elementary and high school students weren't the only ones who held graduation ceremonies this past week; Mrs. Bonnie Fitzgerald's kindergarten class at Archie Stouffer Public School in Minden made their jump up to grade one last Friday morning.

Following the presentation of the diplomas, the graduates were whisked off to the local dairy with their parents to receive a graduation treat they could sink their teeth into - ice cream.

Year of the Child

Prenatal course eases uncertainties

by Jane Selbie

Everyone has been exposed to the horror stories of difficult pregnancies and deliveries. The expectant mother seems to be open territory for all these tales but she can counteract by getting the facts right.

We are very fortunate to have the Prenatal classes run by the Haliburton Kawartha Pine Ridge District Health Unit. They are offered three times each year (fall, winter and spring) running for seven to eight weeks. These excellent courses are available to all prospective parents and provide a host of solid information that takes the mystery out of the whole birth process but still leaves the magic of the event. The series covers conception and growth of baby in the womb. It stresses the nutrition of the mother and baby and provides useful movies and material on labour and delivery. They teach proper breathing and physical exercises that will prepare expectant mothers for a much easier delivery. Fathers are welcomed and approximately 60 percent of those that attend the course come as couples. This helps the mother to have a sharing experience in a very important and exciting period in her life and draws the father into an active, encouraging role. Issues such as breast-feeding and bottle feeding, communications as parents and after-care of the newborn are discussed. The group goes to the hospital one evening to see the labour and delivery room. All the doctors recommend this course and they are available one evening to answer questions. I found this extremely helpful and reassuring.

Approximately 50 percent of the pregnant women in the county take this course. In the local Minden-Haliburton area this percentage is higher. Many mothers in the outer regions of the county choose to go to Prenatal classes run by other centres closer to them.

The contact with the public health nurses, hospital, doctors, and other pregnant women through these classes make the whole process one of shared interest and enthusiasm. The information dispels all the fables.

Volunteers needed to help Stanhope senior citizens

Summer student hired under grant says 'We need them badly'

If you think you might like to volunteer your services to aid Stanhope senior citizens, then Kim Gorveatt wants to hear from you.

The 19-year old student is manager of a volunteer assistance centre, which is designed to help the area's senior citizens with work they could not normally do around their homes themselves. So far, only one senior citizen has taken advantage of the program, which got underway late last month, and Ms. Gorveatt has had no luck recruiting volunteers.

"We need them badly," said Ms. Gorveatt, who is working for the municipality under sponsorship by the Ministry of Culture and Recreation. She volunteered when Mrs. Louise Clark requested someone to help her with various odd jobs around her home on Maple Lake. Five other senior citizens have put in their bids for assistance, but if no one volunteers, Ms. Gorveatt points out, these people may not get the help they need. Duties for the volunteer would include painting, cutting grass, helping with correspondence, or shopping.

Lynda Marshall, who was a volunteer assistance coordinator in Peterborough, is giving some aid to Ms. Gorveatt in organization and coordination of the program. This aspect can be as important as the actual physical work by the volunteer, Ms. Gorveatt said.

"You have to match up personalities (volunteer to senior citizen), and screen all the applicants." But because there have been no volunteers so far, there's been no chance to do so.

Distance from the work is the major factor Ms. Gorveatt believes is holding the volunteers back. There is no money involved except mileage, and many of today's young people don't really want "to do anything for nothing." Motivation, or a sincere desire to help, is not as evident in Stanhope or surrounding area among the young people as it is in the larger centres such as Toronto.

Ms. Gorveatt said she has a friend who asked how she could get involved in volunteer assistance. She is a resident of Toronto and has two children.

"Motivation is important," said Ms. Gorveatt.

And since this is a pilot subject, the success of a larger county-wide permanent volunteer centre could hinge on the extent of the program usage and volunteer response.

Mrs. Clark, the program's only user so far, feels there aren't enough "kids" in the area to make the program viable.

"There are not that many youngsters around here," she said, "And what there is, they want to make money." At 70 years of age, Mrs. Clark admits that there are several jobs around her home that need completing, but she lacks the strength to carry them out. She doesn't mind paying for services, which is what she is currently doing, and employing "a couple of lads" for a day is no bother, she says.

Volunteers who would do that same work would be ideal, but Mrs. Clark feels "it's too bad" that volunteers weren't more available. She says she could find them the work.

Ms. Gorveatt has distributed posters around the community in an effort to make senior citizens and potential volunteers more aware of the program. Main theme of the posters is the rewards one achieves from assisting the elderly. As one of the flyers read, "The moment may be temporary, but the memory is forever. Volunteer your time to the senior citizens."

As the summer progresses, Ms. Gorveatt feels more and more young people will take these ideals to heart, or once they become bored with doing nothing, they'll begin to look to the program as a chance to occupy their time. If the program ends up being successful, a county-wide companion group could be in the making.

But if not, several area senior citizens could be without the good help during the summer.

Chamber

The Guild's Summer Theatre this year is following the theme of the International Year of the Child and presenting some excellent shows geared to the whole family but with children in mind. The plays get underway this weekend at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School with "Alice in Wonderland".

The 17th Annual Guild Exhibition and Sale begins on July 7 and runs through to the 17th at the Haliburton Senior Elementary School. This event is now becoming well-known throughout the province as a great place to view and purchase, if you wish, a large variety of meticulously created items from both local craft artisans and those of wider fame.

Fiddle Contests

We are now becoming known for two well organized Fiddle and Step Dance contests. The first is this weekend, June 30 at Wilberforce and the second in Haliburton on July 13 and 14. If you have never looked in on one of these events, do yourself a favour and give it a try. You don't have to be a country music fan to appreciate the talent and dedication the competitors in these championships display.

"Lovers Buttons"

Since the introduction of the new Haliburton Highlands logo many have asked about the familiar "Haliburton is for Lovers" logo, or in particular the buttons that have been available in the past. Peter Gorman, the wholesaler who was handling these buttons has now sold their entire inventory to the Chamber and we will be handling them while they last at the same price as the wholesaler. If you wish a supply for the summer, contact the Chamber office while stock lasts.

HHSS convocation and graduation held

Grades 12 and 13 students attend event to receive diplomas and honours

Grade 12 graduates

Grade 12 graduates

Over 100 students graduated from grades 12 and 13 at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School Saturday night, when the annual convocation and graduation ceremonies took place.

It was the school's 27th graduation ceremony, and principal Brian Mosgrove, in his introductory remarks to the gathering, pointed out the many problems today's young people will have to face in the coming years.

"As young people who will be embarking upon new ventures after tonight, you have probably wondered, 'Gee, Mom and Dad, thanks for the mess that the world is in.'"

Mosgrove pointed out, however, that the graduates' parents "inherited" the Titanic disaster, gas warfare, two world wars and other disastrous events.

"My point is not to depress you with lists of negative events or human behaviour, but rather to impress upon you that, in more ways than most, people will acknowledge each generation is the same. Only the specific problems and the actors change."

Piper Earl Cooper led the procession around the school for the final walk prior to the ceremonies. Rev. Don Nicholson, minister at Haliburton

United Church, gave the invocation, which was followed by Mosgrove's introduction of the platform guests, J. Douglas Hodgson, director of the Haliburton County Board of Education, Lloyd Johnson, chairman of the Haliburton County Board of Education, and teachers Doug Mitchell and Paul Morissette. The board chairman and the director of education presented the Secondary School graduation diplomas.

The grade 12 Valedictory speech was made by Barbara Barnhart, who pointed out the many achievements made over the last four years "that the school can boast about." Miss Barnhart mentioned HHSS victories in the Kawartha West track and field meet, the Victoria/Haliburton Badminton competitions, the Kawartha 'A' basketball championships in 1975-76, and various other sports in which the school has fared well. She also mentioned some of the "memorable events" which happened to the students over the years.

In closing, she said "Four years ago when we came here, hardly knowing anyone, it seemed a lifetime ahead of us before we would be graduating. But here we are today, four years later, ready to break away from our ties and begin to shape a future for ourselves."

The school's 16 Ontario Secondary School honour graduates were then presented with their diplomas, which was followed by Andy

Salvatori's grade 13 address. "When we first arrived at HHSS," he said, "graduation loomed far in the future."

But now, with grade 13 completed, we have found that the so-called "best years of our lives" have passed by all too quickly."

"But how appropriate to call graduation a commencement. For tonight is not an ending but a beginning and we are now ready to move onward to the work of a lifetime."

He called the past five years a "determined campaign" for the teachers "to give us a higher education and a better way of life."

The mention of Ontario scholars, students achieving 80 percent or better, followed. Grade 13 students Beverley Jones and Marina Pearsell both achieved the award.

Commencement 1979 ended with the recessional, followed by a brief reception in the school's cafeteria.

DISTRICT NEWS

Chatting with Irene

by Irene Moore

Summer has arrived, but one would not think so after the cool weather we had in the latter part of the week. For a few nights I thought we would get frost, but all is fine. Everything is growing like mad, even the weeds. Of course they will grow anyway.

The schools are finished for the summer and there are plenty of bikes and children around. With the holiday weekend coming up, do be careful if driving, for one has to have eyes in the back of one's head at all times.

Birthday at Hyland Crest Home for July are: Lillian Miller, 2nd; Caroline Jones, 12th; Wilbert Sisson, 14th; Amelia Good, 19th; James Voicoy, 26th.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Maw of Nogies Creek visited with the Lyman Cox's on the weekend. We are very pleased to hear that one of our local ladies entered in the Norland Horticultural Flower Show last Saturday and won two first prizes. Congratulations to Mrs. Bob Emmerson from Minden.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rivers and sons of Downsview spent the weekend with Mrs. Arnold Coulter, and took Jeff Stamp home with them for a holiday.

Do you know that a man on the right size bicycle is the most efficient traveller in the world? He expends less energy for his weight than a horse, a bee, a jet transport, an automobile, a salmon, a gull, anything.

Master Corporal Chris Pritchard of Germany is spending a month's leave visiting his family and friends in the area.

Art Austin and Lorne Snell have been visiting at Kirkland Lake for a few days.

I was under the impression that when one became hooked up to the sewage, whoever did the job was to leave things as they found them; but one wonders after seeing some of the mess that is left at homes in town. Some are finished the way they should be, but some, Oh, Oh, Oh.

Mrs. Elizabeth Carrell, and daughter Pam are spending this week in London and Windsor.

It was nice to see the Les Prentice's of Lindsay in town this past weekend.

Book exchange has taken place at all libraries in the county. The exchange is always the last two Wednesdays of each month. The Minden branch exchange will be this week.

The Earl Hewitts had a holiday last week with Ron and Peggy Davis, owners and operators of Ivanhoe Lodge near Foleyet.

If you are in the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce in Minden when you look on the wall on the right hand side, you will see the silver tray that each year the bank gives at the Haliburton County Fair. This year the tray is being given to the floral section, for the person with the most points in that section.

Mr. and Mrs. Craig Morrison of Toronto, also Myles Morrison of Hamilton spent the weekend with Mrs. Alice Morrison.

Wannita Hogg won the snowball of $147 in 23 numbers at Rotary bingo last week.

Barb Gadberson, R.N.; Byron and Dianne of Fort St. John, B.C. are spending several weeks with Vinton Loucks.

Donna and Les Johnson are home after having a wonderful holiday in Scotland.

Most organizations close down for July and August; when you read of all the events that are coming up in the next week or so you will know why. Everyone has to keep up their strength, so they can take them all in.

Friday, June 29, the fruit and vegetable market will open for the summer; Saturday, June 30, Minden Minor Hockey Book and Bake Sale at municipal parking lot and car wash if weather permits; Saturday, June 30, swimming registration at dock, time 12-3 p.m., classes to start July 3; Monday, July 2, Library-Museum meeting, 8 p.m.

municipal building; Tuesday, July 3, Minden & District Horticultural meeting, 7:30 p.m., municipal building, Mr. Sam Hambly guest speaker; Saturday, July 7, County Fair beef barbecue and dance at Minden Community Centre, "meet and greet" hour starts at 6 p.m.; beef barbecue at 7 p.m.; then dance to Misty River Ramblers starting at 9 p.m. And the summer is just starting.

Did you know that the one thing children wear out faster than shoes is parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Angus Coulter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Coulter, Edith McKnight and Margaret Miller attended the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Greer, at Raymond Hall, Utterson last week.

The Ray Miller family of Peterborough visited with Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Cowen recently.

The sneakiest two words in the English language are "Plus Tax", and we hear them more all the time.

The annual pot luck luncheon of the Minden Women's Institute was held at the United Church hall at 12:30 on June 20. Everyone enjoyed the buffet style meal, after the tables were cleared, the president, Mrs. C. Brown, called the meeting to order, then made all feel welcome by reading a poem.

When the roll was called, those who had secret pals told their names. There were 34 ladies present.

Report were given: the card convenor had sent 22 cards since the May meeting. A letter from Mr. S. Baker, Principal of the public school was read and the suggestions given his letter will be carried out next year for the school prizes.

Programs for the coming year were given out and collections were taken for cards and pennies for friendship.

Mrs. Alice Todd explained the secret pal idea that gave names to those who wished to partake in this.

Mrs. Lyman Cox gave the report of the district annual held in Fenelon Falls last month, then gave the secretary a list of the district officers for the coming year.

Mrs. A. S. Kernohan presented Mrs. Cox with a gift from the W.I. in appreciation of her three years as president. Mrs. Cox thanked all and said she had really enjoyed her term in office.

Mrs. S. Ewing, who is leaving the area shortly, was presented with a parting gift by Mrs. Sears who thanked Thelma for all the time and talent she had used in the W.I. In thanking the members, Thelma said how much she had enjoyed being an active member and would look up a branch near St. Catharines as she hoped to continue in the Women's Institute work.

Mrs. Sears read a poem, "Seeds of Goodness".

The fall bus trip was discussed and the date, September 26 was settled for the trip. The members are to give suggestions of places they would like to go to the committee, Mrs. Rheta Brown, Mrs. Mary Cox and Mrs. Irene Moore. This committee will then decide where the most people wish to go.

Marcella Wright was the winner of the draw.

The W.I. meetings will start again on September 19, 2 p.m. at the Orange Hall. Adios and take care now.

Norland Notebook

by Barbara Maunder

Norland public school will hold their graduation dinner and dance on Monday, June 25. Graduates this year are Debra Chynoweth, Joseph Chynoweth, David Graham, Linda Janke, James Kenny, and Michael Potter. Some of the ladies of the Women's Institute will prepare and serve the dinner for the graduation class in the Norland Institute hall. Following the presentation of graduation certificates and awards, the students will dance and enjoy a fun time in honour of the occasion at the school. This is an exciting time for these young people and I'm sure that they all share an inner feeling of accomplishment. We wish you well as you proceed to higher learning in September.

The Norland Firefighters Association is looking forward to welcoming all area residents, cottagers and friends to their fifth annual horse draw on Saturday, July 7 at 1:00 p.m. in Ward Memorial Park. The park is just north of Norland on the west side of Highway 35. Added features this year will be the Haliburton Pipe Band and a display of antique cars. Light and heavy horses, ponies, women's single horse draw, games of chance, and a refreshment booth as well as a gate prize can all be enjoyed by those who are in attendance. Admission is $2.00 for adults, $1.00 for children under 12 years and no charge for pre-schoolers. The members of the association ask your support, too, to purchase from them a $1.00 draw ticket for a chance at the $1,000 grand prize. The lucky name will be drawn that day at the horse draw.

The strawberries are ripe and I was picking the luscious red fruit earlier this week at Sebright Gardens. There are acres and acres of ripening strawberries to be picked or if you are not so inclined, the picked fruit is for sale also. There should be berries for another three weeks unless the weather isn't cooperative. Sebright Gardens is about 18 miles west of Norland on the south side of Highway 503 and very handy for local people. I would recommend that you use a good mosquito repellent while there unless the day is very breezy because those pesky and persistent insects seem to abound in the strawberry patch.

Norland's Red and White store's Peter, Linda and Michael Purcell, enjoyed a brief but well earned holiday this past week for a few days when they went camping at Burks Falls. Their return trip was somewhat spoiled when they discovered that their truck that has been left with a friend in Lakefield while they used the friend's camping van, had been stolen. It was later recovered by the police in Toronto but not before some damage had been done to it. You needed the holiday, Peter and Linda, but we are sorry that it ended in this manner.

The Community Centre Board met for a short session on Wednesday, June 20 in the community hall. The design for a sign for Ward Memorial Park was chosen and will shortly be made and erected by Don McLean of Big M Sign Company. The sand box has been installed in the park with a thank you to Roger Gostlin who donated the sand for it. Plans are underway to erect a five foot high series of play bars to keep the children amused while parents play or view the ball games which, I understand, are being played weather permitting, every night of the week. We are grateful to Vern and Phyllis LeCraw for donating the sand box and the play bars.

Norland U.C.W. Opportunity Shop is open every Tuesday and Saturday afternoon from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. It is situated on the east side of Highway 35 just south of Highway 503. There is a good selection of nearly new clothing for women, men and children, shoes, purses, books, records, jewellery and articles for house and cottage all very reasonably priced.

Don't forget to enjoy a delicious supper with strawberries for dessert by attending the Baddow Strawberry Supper in Baddow United Church hall or the community centre hall on Saturday, June 30, starting at 3:00 p.m. Admission is $4.50 for adults, $2.50 for children under 12 years and preschoolers are free.

Bingo starts Monday, July 2 in Norland Community Hall at 8:00 p.m. and every Monday night during the summer months. Admission is $1.00 and extra cards are two for 25 cents with a $100. jackpot if won in 50 numbers. Five dollars is added each week until there is a lucky winner. Come out and try your luck!

I was sorry to learn that Mrs. M. Cooper, a Shallow Lake summer cottager who resides on Highway 503 near the Buller Road turnoff, once again has a cast on her leg because she broke her ankle. Two years ago she suffered two broken legs in an automobile accident so she has had more than her share of breaks lately. She is managing to get about with the aid of a walker and we wish her a speedy recovery.

Our country celebrates its 112th birthday this year. The Canada Day holiday (July 1) falls on a Sunday this year so Monday, July 2, will be observed instead. I hope that it is a happy and safe first holiday of the summer for everyone. It is the time of year, too, that school is out and cottagers arrive back to this area to enjoy two months of sunshine and recreation. We welcome you and hope that your stay with us will be an enjoyable one.

Recycle it!

by Jane Selbie

What is recycling? Simplified it means putting through the cycle of use again. Whether it's putting an old wheel barrow into a new use as an attractive outdoor planter, or reusing a broom handle to become the base of a hobby horse or the cross piece of a wall hanging - it's challenging your thinking to gain something from what might have been lost as garbage.

2. Do you know how to clean a dirty penny?

Put 2 teaspoons of vinegar in a bowl; add salt, about 5 shakes. Put your penny in and stir it with your finger. Rinse it under the tap and it looks like new.

3. Find 10 triangles.

How many times have you visited the dump to see garden furniture that could have been rewashed or canvas replaced? How many clothes have we discarded that could make handy dustcloths or clean-up rags for paint jobs? How many other clothes could be remodelled to become wearable or cut up to make attractive hooked rugs? How many buttons are thrown out while we buy a package shortly afterward for a sewing project?

We have become a throw away society! Look up the word "recycle". It is not in any dictionary that I've checked. Is that because the pattern of discarding things is so blatant now that some folks have pitted their thoughts to correct this situation?

In 1976 Canada spent $500,000,000. to have garbage collected and disposed of. That's a lot of taxpayers' money spent on unwanted packaging, planned obsolescence, changing styles and poor buying.

The purpose of this column is to reassess our patterns of use and disuse. Learn from each other how to put items back through the cycle again.

I have been quite disappointed recently in the lack of interest shown in sending ideas for publication. Many people have commented on how much they enjoy the column which has been running since February. I'm glad of course, but what would count more is to see the involvement of tackling the waste problem.

The lack of response indicates three possible problems. (1) Lack of confidence: You don't feel the little tips you have picked up are worth mentioning. (2) Snobbery: You feel it is just not stylish to be involved in a column principally dealing with "garbage". (3) Apathy: You don't care about the dreadful waste in packaging, or poorly built items. If any of these "labels" fit, I think it is time to shake off the shackles and look at the $500,000,000. again - you are paying for it just as I am.

With the permission of the Echo, I have suspended payment for May and June. These prizes will be consolidated with July's. That totals $15.00 which will be awarded at the end of July for all submissions received during that interval. It gives you time to tell your thinking, write in and win.

Come on now, let's hear from you. There are no entries on file - you have just as much chance as the next person. Send your ideas to Recycle It!, Haliburton Echo, Box 360, Haliburton, Ontario, K0M 1S0.

There were browsers and buyers, but nearly everyone who walked away from Extender's bake sale and bazaar held last Thursday went away happy. The sale was held in conjunction with Nursing Home Week, and much of the merchandise on sale was made by the residents themselves.

Coboconk News by Sheila Lake

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Frolick and Clara Schell were guests of the Guy Guthrie and Debbie Peyton wedding at Manchester United Church last Saturday.

Mrs. Mary Limrick had the misfortune of falling while planting flowers on Monday afternoon and in the fall broke her left arm near the shoulder. She is now a patient in Ross Memorial Hospital.

A former resident here, when she and her husband owned the Riverside Motors Imperial Gas Station, passed away on Thursday at Orangeville, Lee (Mrs. Bill Sotnikow) died at her Orangeville home and interment took place June 23 at Pontiac, Michigan where her husband Bill is buried. Sincere sympathy to her sister, Mrs. Rae Brock who makes her home here. Rae journeyed to Orangeville on Friday to the home of her niece, Vivian Epps, then the family was proceeding on to Pontiac, Michigan on Friday evening for the funeral services.

Mrs. Cindy McColl of Peterborough visited Mr. and Mrs. Sam Routley for several days last week. Mrs. Ruth Hall of Lindsay also visited the Routleys.

Mrs. Vi Fountain and two granddaughters from Sudbury are off to England for a holiday.

The donkey Baseball game held in the Gull River field last Saturday night was a great success. About 500 people attended the event despite very hot humid weather.

Bexley Recreation Committee hosted the game with team members, Jim Hannivan, Ron Bell, Doug Michele, George Shepherd Jr., Ted Garelli, Brian Hannivan, Jim Hopkins, Earl Liscombe, Gordon Foster, Fred Jones and John Bryant. Opponents were Ontario Provincial Police, Bob Bowen, Mike Ware, Don Fitzpatrick, Cpl. Terry Sneddon and Ralph Erskine of Lindsay O.P.P. Also, friends of the team, Wilf Craig, John Lytle and Ivan Bell. Present reeve of Bexley Township Everett Cameron, acted as umpire at first base.

At second base was Laurie Barkwell - past reeve and former reeve, George Shepherd Sr. umpired at third base.

We realize that vandalism and thefts occur anytime and any place but it seems these people become braver all the time. Charlie Routley lost the battery from his truck, parked in his driveway under a well lit area. Street lights are good on our street, but still, the person(s) responsible must have used the street lights as an aid because the battery sure was stolen. So just because your yard is well lit, don't feel too secure. Be sure your car, truck, bicycle, etc., are locked up tight. You could be the next loser!

A, H and M hires 14 grant students

The municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden will have 14 extra workers this summer and some students employed under Young Canada Works and Ministry of Natural Resources Experience '79 programs have already started work.

Under a Young Canada Works grant, the municipality has hired six students and one supervisor for eight weeks. They will be working around the Gull River in Minden, installing riffles and cofferdams for fish along the banks. The students are Paul White, supervisor, Jim Hart, Shaun Gilligan, Ted Picher, Warren Mann, Margie Newton, Ron Yake and Harold Porter.

Lake Wilberforce is one of Monmouth's most scenic lakes. Its shores were chosen by our first settlers as a suitable place to begin a community. The lake is fed by the waters of the Burnt River which continues on through beautiful countryside for many miles. A short distance from the lake is a portion of land known as Brigadoon. In 1962 this was purchased and for a number of years was a happy holiday centre for school girls. It is now operated as a restaurant where meals and snacks may be obtained during the summer months. June 29 is the opening date this year and it is expected that many guests will arrive to enjoy the hospitality that has been shown in the past.

Close by is a gift shop known as Heather House. It is well worth a visit to discover the fine selection of quality merchandise that has been chosen with care. You will admire this fascinating collection of articles from all parts of the globe and will enjoy a chat with the friendly proprietor Dr. Joy Ballard. Restaurant and gift house are closed Mondays and Tuesdays and open for the remaining days from 11:30 to 8 p.m.

There has been a book exchange at the library. This will be the last one until fall. If you are looking for something new to read, drop in and see what is now available. Summer hours for July and August include Saturday afternoons from 1:30 to 3:30.

Wilberforce playground will be operating this year from July 2 until August 17. In charge of the summer program will be Nancy Anderson assisted by Brenda Casey, Brenda Noble and Jane Taylor. It is expected that the hours will be from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. for five days a week. This project is sponsored by the federal government.

Swimming lessons will be commencing July 3 and will continue through the month. The teacher this year will be Miss Cindy Mason of Peterborough. At the end of the month a Red Cross inspector will be on hand to supervise the testing. The fee will be $5.00 per person and lessons will take place at Lake Wilberforce. Watch for notices on dates of registration.

Wilberforce Legion Branch

624 is sponsoring a big fiddle and step dance contest on Saturday, June 30 from 1 p.m. to 7 p.m. This was a very popular event last year and drew crowds of interested spectators. It is expected that this year will see even more people attending. On a recent front page of the Toronto Star was an article depicting the increase in the popularity of clog dancing.

This was followed with a list of coming events featuring this pleasant pastime and one of these was the Wilberforce program for June 30.

Wives of the Legion members will be serving another of their excellent dinners from 5 to 7 p.m. This will be at the Memorial Centre hall in the evening a dance will take place at the Lloyd Watson Memorial Centre with Frank Leahy dance bands participating.

Runabout hits aluminum boat, charges pending

Two persons escaped injury Sunday when their 12 foot aluminum boat was run over by a runabout.

Rosemary Soden of Kingston and David John Vrooman of RR 3, Stella, were travelling south on Little Elsie Lake in Minden Township at approximately 4:30 p.m. when they noticed another boat approaching.

The second vessel, a 16 foot fibreglass runabout with a 70 horsepower motor driven by Brian Wayne Hewitt, 22, of Bay Ridge, Ontario, was towing a water skier and carrying three passengers. Hewitt apparently turned the boat around to head back to Horseshoe Lake and failed to see the smaller craft. Soden and Vrooman waved and shouted as Hewitt's boat bore down on them, then jumped overboard when it was clear a collision was imminent. The runabout struck the aluminum boat and went over the top of it.

Police say charges are pending as a result of the incident.

tained the family afterwards at a family get-together. Hymn books were also dedicated to Mr. James Chambers, Mrs. Norman Wallace and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Irwin. The Sunday School children also received their awards for attendance.

Sunday was also the day of the annual Prentice reunion. Some 35 sat down to dinner at the Holiday Inn.

There was another get-together for the Fort Meyer's Beach friends. This time Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Prentice of Lindsay were the entertainers.

Haliburton Highlights

by Creighton Feir

The annual meeting of the Haliburton Minor Hockey Association will take place tonight (Wednesday, June 27) at the arena in Haliburton. The agenda will cover setting up an executive for next year, gathering names of interested people for coaches, managers and trainers for next year, and analyzing the performance of this past year. Please plan to attend, bring your ideas and enthusiasm and maybe, some more interested people. All managers are reminded to please bring team sweaters, socks, goal equipment, etc. to the meeting so that they can be cleaned and repaired for next year.

Roller skating, "roller skating to disco music", got underway at the Haliburton Curling Rink last Friday evening and if the number of people who turned out on Friday and Saturday evenings are any indication, then it's going to be a real success. Well over 100 people were on hand on Saturday night to enjoy the sport of roller skating. The general public seem to be really enthusiastic about it and those who haven't tried it are going to give it a go this week. Roller skating is on Tuesday through Saturday nights from 7:30 to 10:30.

The caboose which is used to house the information centre has been moved from its old location at the first crossing up near the CNR station which is now known as the Guild Gallery. This will all fit in with the new park complex.

Bill Weaver of Fenelon Falls was in the village last week renewing old acquaintances and I met him at Curry Motors visiting with Joe Iles. Bill and Joe played defence a few years ago with the Haliburton Huskies. Bill tells me he is retired now and previous to this was on the Fenelon Falls police force.

Members of the Eastern Star attended the Sunday morning service at the Haliburton United Church.

"Meatballs", the movie which was filmed in Haliburton and surrounding area is now playing in Toronto and will open at the Molou Theatre in Haliburton on Friday, July 13 where it will have a week's run. Later on it will move on and play at the Beaver Theatre in Minden. Theatre owner Lou Consky told me that he has seen the picture and that it is a real good comedy.

Work has begun on the new park in Haliburton and last week municipal employees were busy cleaning up the area from the tracks to the highway in the area from the government dock to station platform. Some white grit has also been placed in this area.

"The Occult" a film that featured Hal Lindsey, author of "The Late Great Planet Earth" was shown at the Lakeside Baptist Church at Haliburton last Sunday evening.

Last Thursday night at the Rotary Club meeting in Haliburton, Dave Bishop, with the able assistance of Murray Austin, brought to the club, films and slides of their recent fishing trip in Province of Quebec. About nine local men made the trip. This Thursday night will be the year-end meeting of the Rotary Club of Haliburton at Wig-A-Mog Inn. Vince Connaughan will be coming in as the new president and he will take over from Ken Langdon.

Mr. Frank Roberts of Haliburton, retired recently after having worked 27 years for the Ministry of Transportation and Communications.

Frank was employed as a snow plow operator and grader operator at the M.T.C. patrol in Haliburton. He was presented with a certificate by D.A.O. White, District Engineer, in Huntsville, to commemorate his service with the M.T.C.

Total Snowrama receipts raised jointly by the Haliburton and Minden Rotary Clubs came to $17,243.76. The two clubs are to be congratulated on a job well done.

We notice that the banner is up on Highland Street near the Bell Canada office advertising Haliburton's Third Annual Fiddling and Step Dancing Championships which are scheduled for the curling rink in Haliburton on Friday and Saturday, July 13 and 14.

The big weekend is coming up to usher in the summer season. Let's hope that it will be warm and sunny. Do you know that it's only six months until Christmas. How time does fly.

Kinmount Klippings

by Fran Crawford

Hi folks. Well, here we are in summer holidays. What a great beginning with the sun shining and warm days.

The past week being Senior Citizens Week, it was really nice on Wednesday, June 20. The Senior Citizens Club 714 went on a bus trip to Beavermeade Park for a special day held for our seniors. There were 24 members on the trip and they thoroughly enjoyed the day. Six of them brought home prizes won in various games. They were also the club that travelled the farthest for the day. On their way home they stopped and had supper at the Ponderosa in Peterborough. A very enjoyable day was had by all.

On June 8, Mrs. Betty Bacon attended graduation exercises for her daughter Anna-Marie at Sheridan College in Oakville. Anna-Marie is a former graduate of Haliburton Highlands Secondary School and has completed her Early Childhood Education Program and will be employed by St. Hilda's Nursery School in Oakville starting in September. Her picture will appear in next week's Echo.

Excited or what? On Friday, June 22 Allan Yeo caught a 47" musky at Furnace Falls. It weighed a little over 20 pounds and is the first ever to be caught there. Also, it was caught on a live worm harness. What a fish story, but if you have any doubts just drop in at Dettmans Store. John has pictures I know he would be glad to show.

The Ladies Auxiliary to Branch 441 had a very successful bake sale and rummage sale on Saturday. Thank you everyone who donated and helped the ladies.

Bingo this week will be 57 numbers called for $170 jackpot. I haven't heard of any big winners lately, but keep trying, you may be next.

There was a dance and beauty contest at Galloway Hall on Saturday. I hear there was a good crowd as usual but I'll have more details next week as I wasn't there.

By the way, this Saturday, June 30 at 10 a.m. there will be a bazaar and bake sale put on by Kinmount Senior Citizens Club 714. If you have your oven on I know they would appreciate a small donation.

Cheerio for now. See you next week and do drive careful and have a real good holiday.

Dorset News

"Entertaining would be so much simpler if we could just convince ourselves that guests don't expect any more at our house than we do at theirs."

There was a bountiful bridal shower held in the Dorset Community Centre on Tuesday, June 19 in honour of Gracie Ryan and Linda Ellington. Linda was married on June 21 to Bruce Cain of Dwight in the Dorset United Church. There was a large crowd of friends and relatives in attendance and the girls received many beautiful gifts. After the gifts were opened and admired, a sumptuous lunch was served.

The sympathy of the community is extended to the family of Mrs. Wm. Mustard, who passed away at their cottage on Kawagama Lake last week. Dr. Mustard and his family have been summer residents in the area for many years and have numerous friends and acquaintances in the community.

Lloyd McKee, his wife May and their three children of Hespeler and Lloyd's mother, Mrs. Vernon McKee of Timmins, visited with relatives in Dorset over the weekend.

On Thursday, June 21, the Dorset Elementary School held their graduation exercises at the Leslie M. Frost Resources Centre. The students, their parents and the school staff enjoyed a delicious roast beef dinner in the centre cafeteria. There were seven graduates; namely, Florence Brown, Teresa Eaton, Pauline Ewstratin, Leslie Keown, Gordon Lewis, Andrew McKay and Elmar Theisen. Special awards were presented: the student showing the greatest desire to succeed to Florence Brown; award for history and geography, Florence Brown; science and mathematics award, Gordon Lewis; award for achievement in English, Florence Brown; best all-round boy and girl athlete, Les Keown and Pauline Ewstratin; grade eight boy and girl for academic achievement, Gordon Lewis and Florence Brown. The Valedictory address was presented by Florence Brown. School awards were: Oral Communications, Andy McKay and Jeff Avery. The Bob Baum awards went to Heather MacGregor, Steve Avery, Les Leown and Pauline Ewstratin. These young ladies and gentlemen have finished the first sector of their education and will be off to high school in the fall where they will meet new challenges and will have hurdles to get over that they may find difficult. Our good wishes go with them and we wish them all the luck in the world. In the meantime we hope they have a deliciously happy summer. Wish the weatherman would make up his mind. We're roasting one weekend and freezing the next. There's no justice weather-wise.

You have to walk before you can run.

HHSS convocation and graduation held

Grades 12 and 13 students attend event to receive diplomas and honours

Grade 12 graduates

Over 100 students graduated from grades 12 and 13 at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School Saturday night, when the annual convocation and graduation ceremonies took place.

It was the school's 27th graduation ceremony, and principal Brian Mosgrove, in his introductory remarks to the gathering, pointed out the many problems today's young people will have to face in the coming years.

"As young people who will be embarking upon new ventures after tonight, you have probably wondered, 'Gee, Mom and Dad, thanks for the mess that the world is in'."

Mosgrove pointed out, however, that the graduates' parents "inherited" the Titanic disaster, gas warfare, two world wars and other disastrous events.

"My point is not to depress you with lists of negative events or human behaviour, but rather to impress upon you that, in more ways than most, people will acknowledge each generation is the same. Only the specific problems and the actors change."

Piper Earl Cooper led the procession around the school for the final walk prior to the ceremonies. Rev. Don Nicholson, minister at Haliburton

United Church, gave the invocation, which was followed by Mosgrove's introduction of the platform guests, J. Douglas Hodgson, director of the Haliburton County Board of Education, Lloyd Johnson, chairman of the Haliburton County Board of Education, and teachers Doug Mitchell and Paul Morissette. The board chairman and the director of education presented the Secondary School graduation diplomas.

The grade 12 Valedictory speech was made by Barbara Barnhart, who pointed out the many achievements made over the last four years "that the school can boast about." Miss Barnhart mentioned HHSS victories in the Kawartha West track and field meet, the Victoria/Haliburton Badminton competitions, the Kawartha "A" basketball championships in 1975-76, and various other sports in which the school has fared well. She also mentioned some of the "memorable events" which happened to the students over the years.

In closing, she said "Four years ago when we came here, hardly knowing anyone, it seemed a lifetime ahead of us before we would be graduating. But here we are today, four years later, ready to break away from our ties and begin to shape a future for ourselves."

The school's 16 Ontario Secondary School honour graduates were then presented with their diplomas, which was followed by Andy

Salvatori's grade 13 address. "When we first arrived at HHSS," he said, "graduation loomed far in the future."

But now, with grade 13 completed, we have found that the so-called "best years of our lives" have passed by all too quickly."

"But how appropriate to

He called the past five years a "determined campaign" for the teachers "to give us a higher education and a better way of life."

The mention of Ontario scholars, students achieving 80 percent or better, followed. Grade 13 students Beverly Jones and Marina Pearsell both achieved the award.

Commencement 1979 ended with the recessional, followed by a brief reception in the school's cafeteria.

DISTRICT NEWS

Chatting with Irene

by Irene Moore

Summer has arrived, but one would not think so after the cool weather we had in the latter part of the week. For a few nights I thought we would get frost, but all is fine. Everything is growing like mad, even the weeds. Of course they will grow anyway.

The schools are finished for the summer and there are plenty of bikes and children around. With the holiday weekend coming up, do be careful if driving, for one has to have eyes in the back of one's head at all times.

Birthday at Hyland Crest Home for July are: Lillian Miller, 2nd; Caroline Jones, 12th; Wilbert Sisson, 14th; Amelia Good, 19th; James Voicew, 26th.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Maw of Nogies Creek visited with the Lyman Cox's on the weekend.

We are very pleased to hear that one of our local ladies entered in the Norland Horticultural Flower Show last Saturday and won two first prizes. Congratulations to Mrs. Bob Emmerson from Minden.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rivers and sons of Downsview spent the weekend with Mrs. Arnold Coulter, and took Jeff Stamp home with them for a holiday.

Do you know that a man on the right size bicycle is the most efficient traveller in the world? He expends less energy for his weight than a horse, a bee, a jet transport, an automobile, a salmon, a gull, anything.

Master Corporal Chris Pritchard of Germany is spending a month's leave visiting his family and friends in the area.

Art Austin and Lorne Snell have been visiting at Kirkland Lake for a few days.

I was under the impression that when one became hooked up to the sewage, whoever did the job was to leave things as they found them; but one wonders after seeing some of the mess that is left at homes in town. Some are finished the way they should be, but some, Oh, Oh, Oh.

Mrs. Elizabeth Carrell, and daughter Pam are spending this week in London and Windsor.

It was nice to see the Les Prentice's of Lindsay in town this past weekend.

Book exchange has taken place at all libraries in the county. The exchange is always the last two Wednesdays of each month. The Minden branch exchange will be this week.

The Earl Hewitts had a holiday last week with Ron and Peggy Davis, owners and operators of Ivanhoe Lodge near Foley.

If you are in the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce in Minden when you look on the wall on the right hand side, you will see the silver tray that each year the bank gives at the Haliburton County Fair. This year the tray is being given to the floral section, for the person with the most points in that section. Mr. and Mrs. Craig Morrison of Toronto, also Myles Morrison of Hamilton spent the weekend with Mrs. Alice Morrison.

Wannita Hogg won the snowball of $147 in 23 numbers at Rotary bingo last week.

Barb Gadberson, R.N.; Byron and Dianne of Fort St. John, B.C. are spending several weeks with Vinton Loucks.

Donna and Les Johnson are home after having a wonderful holiday in Scotland.

Most organizations close down for July and August; when you read of all the events that are coming up in the next week or so you will know why. Everyone has to keep up their strength, so they can take them all in.

Friday, June 29, the fruit and vegetable market will open for the summer; Saturday, June 30, Minden Minor Hockey Book and Bake Sale at municipal parking lot and car wash if weather permits; Saturday, June 30, swimming registration at dock, time 12-3 p.m., classes to start July 3; Monday, July 2, Library-Museum meeting, 8 p.m.,

The Ray Miller family of Peterborough visited with Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Cowen recently.

The sneakiest two words in the English language are "Plus Tax", and we hear them more all the time.

The annual pot luck luncheon of the Minden Women's Institute was held at the United Church hall at 12:30 municipal building; Tuesday, July 3, Minden & District Horticultural meeting, 7:30 p.m., municipal building, Mr. Sam Hamby guest speaker; Saturday, July 7, County Fair beef barbecue and dance at Minden Community Centre, "meet and greet" hour starts at 6 p.m.; beef barbecue at 7 p.m.; then dance to Misty River Ramblers starting at 9 p.m. And the summer is just starting.

Did you know that the one thing children wear out faster than shoes is parents. Mr. and Mrs. Angus Coulter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Coulter, Edith McKnight and Margaret Miller attended the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Greer, at Raymond Hall, Utterson last week.

Report were given: the card convenor had sent 22 cards since the May meeting. A letter from Mr. S. Baker, Principal of the public school was read and the suggestions given his letter will be carried out next year for the school prizes.

Programs for the coming year were given out and collections were taken for cards and pennies for friendship.

Mrs. Alice Todd explained the secret pal idea that gave names to those who wished to partake in this.

Mrs. Lyman Cox gave the report of the district annual held in Fenelon Falls last month, then gave the secretary a list of the district officers for the coming year.

Mrs. A. S. Kernohan presented Mrs. Cox with a gift from the W.I. in appreciation of her three years as president. Mrs. Cox thanked all and said she had really enjoyed her term in office.

Mrs. S. Ewing, who is leaving the area shortly, was presented with a parting gift by Mrs. Sears who thanked Thelma for all the time and talent she had used in the W.I. In thanking the members, Thelma said how much she had enjoyed being an active member and would look up a branch near St. Catharines as she hoped to continue in the Women's Institute work.

Mrs. Sears read a poem, "Seeds of Goodness". The fall bus trip was discussed and the date, September 26 was settled for the trip. The members are to give suggestions of places they would like to go to the committee.

Mrs. Rheta Brown, Mrs. Mary Cox and Mrs. Irene Moore. This committee will then decide where the most people wish to go.

Marcella Wright was the winner of the draw.

The W.I. meetings will start again on September 19, 2 p.m. at the Orange Hall.

Adios and take care now.

Recycle it!

by Jane Selbie

How many times have you visited the dump to see garden furniture that could have been rewashed or canvas replaced? How many clothes have we discarded that could make handy dustcloths or clean-up rags for paint jobs? How many other clothes could be remodelled to become wearable or cut up to make attractive hooked rugs? How many buttons are thrown out while we buy a package shortly afterward for a sewing project?

We have become a throw away society! Look up the word "recycle". It is not in any dictionary that I've checked. Is that because the pattern of discarding things is so blatant now that some folks have pitted their thoughts to correct this situation?

In 1976 Canada spent $500,000,000, to have garbage collected and disposed of. That's a lot of taxpayers' money spent on unwanted packaging, planned obsolescence, changing styles and poor buying.

The purpose of this column is to reassess our patterns of use and disuse. Learn from each other how to put items back through the cycle again.

I have been quite disappointed recently in the lack of interest shown in sending ideas for publication. Many people have commented on how much they enjoy the column which has been running since February. I'm glad of course, but what would count more is to see the involvement of tackling the waste problem.

The lack of response indicates three possible problems. (1) Lack of confidence: You don't feel the little tips you have picked up are worth mentioning. (2) Snobbery: You feel it is just not stylish to be involved in a column principally dealing with "garbage". (3) Apathy: You don't care about the dreadful waste in packaging, or poorly built items. If any of these "labels" fit, I think it is time to shake off the shackles and look at the $500,000,000, again - you are paying for it just as I am.

With the permission of the Echo, I have

Norland public school will hold their graduation dinner and dance on Monday, June 25. Graduates this year are Debra Chynoweth, Joseph Chynoweth, David Graham, Linda Janke, James Kenny, and Michael Potter. Some of the ladies of the Women's Institute will prepare and serve the dinner for the graduation class in the Norland Institute hall. Following the presentation of graduation certificates and awards, the students will dance and enjoy a fun time in honour of the occasion at the school. This is an exciting time for these young people and I'm sure that they all share an inner feeling of accomplishment. We wish you well as you proceed to higher learning in September.

The Norland Firefighters Association is looking forward to welcoming all area residents, cottagers and friends to their fifth annual horse draw on Saturday, July 7 at 1:00 p.m. in Ward Memorial Park. The park is just north of Norland on the west side of Highway 35. Added features this year will be the Haliburton Pipe Band and a display of antique cars. Light and heavy horses, ponies, women's single horse draw, games of chance, and a refreshment booth as well as a gate prize can all be enjoyed by those who are in attendance. Admission is $2.00 for adults, $1.00 for children under 12 years and no charge for pre-schoolers. The members of the association ask your support, too, to purchase from them a $1.00 draw ticket for a chance at the $1,000 grand prize. The lucky name will be drawn that day at the horse draw.

The strawberries are ripe and I was picking the luscious red fruit earlier this week at Sebright Gardens. There are acres and acres of ripening strawberries to be picked or if you are not so inclined, the picked fruit is for sale also. There should be berries for another three weeks unless the weather isn't cooperative. Sebright Gardens is about 18 miles west of Norland on the south side of Highway 503 and very handy for local people. I would recommend that you use a good mosquito repellent while there unless the day is very breezy because those pesky and persistent insects seem to abound in the strawberry patch.

Norland's Red and White store's Peter, Linda and Michael Purcell, enjoyed a brief but well earned holiday this past week for a few days when they went camping at Burks Falls. Their return trip was somewhat spoiled when they discovered that their truck that has been left with a friend in Lakefield while they used the friend's camping van, had been stolen. It was later recovered by the police in Toronto but not before some damage had been done to it. You needed the holiday, Peter and Linda, but we are sorry that it ended in this manner.

The Community Centre Board met for a short session on Wednesday, June 20 in the community hall. The design for a sign for Ward Memorial Park was chosen and will shortly be made and erected by Don McLean of Big M Sign Company. The sand box has been installed in the park with a thank you to Roger Gostlin who donated the sand for it. Plans are underway to erect a five foot high series of play bars to keep the children amused while parents play or view the ball games which, I understand, are being played weather permitting, every night of the week. We are grateful to Vern and Phyllis LeCraw for donating the sand box and the play bars.

Norland U.C.W. Opportunity Shop is open every Tuesday and Saturday afternoon from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. It is situated on the east side of Highway 35 just south of Highway 503. There is a good selection of nearly new clothing for women, men and children, shoes, purses, books, records, jewellery and articles for house and cottage all very reasonably priced.

Don't forget to enjoy a delicious supper with strawberries for dessert by attending the Baddow Strawberry Supper in Baddow United Church hall or the community centre hall on Saturday, June 30, starting at 3:00 p.m. Admission is $4.50 for adults, $2.50 for children under 12 years and preschoolers are free.

Bingo starts Monday, July 2 in Norland Community Hall at 8:00 p.m. and every Monday night during the summer months. Admission is $1.00 and extra cards are two for 25 cents with a $100. jackpot if won in 50 numbers. Five dollars is added each week until there is a lucky winner. Come out and try your luck!

I was sorry to learn that Mrs. M. Cooper, a Shadow Lake summer cottager who resides on Highway 503 near the Buller Road turnoff, once again has a cast on her leg because she broke her ankle. Two years ago she suffered two broken legs in an automobile accident so she has had more than her share of breaks lately. She is managing to get about with the aid of a walker and we wish her a speedy recovery.

Our country celebrates its 112th birthday this year. The Canada Day holiday (July 1) falls on a Sunday this year so Monday, July 2, will be observed instead. I hope that it is a happy and safe first holiday of the summer for everyone. It is the time of year, too, that school is out and cottagers arrive back to this area to enjoy two months of sunshine and recreation. We welcome you and hope that your stay with us will be an enjoyable one.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Frolick and Clara Schell were guests of the Guy Guthrie and Debbie Peyton wedding at Manchester United Church last Saturday.

Mrs. Mary Limrick had the misfortune of falling while planting flowers on Monday afternoon and in the fall broke her left arm near the shoulder. She is now a patient in Ross Memorial Hospital.

At second base was Laurie Barkwell - past reeve and former reeve George Shepherd Sr. umpired at third base.

We realize that vandalism and thefts occur anytime and any place but it seems these people become braver all the time. Charlie Routley lost the battery from his truck, parked in his driveway under a well lit area. Street lights are good on our street, but still, the person(s) responsible must have used the street lights as an aid because the battery sure was stolen. So just because your yard is well lit, don't feel too secure. Be sure your car, truck, bicycle, etc., are locked up tight. You could be the next loser!

The students are Paul White, supervisor, Jim Hart, Shaun Gilligan, Ted Picher, Warren Mann, Margie Newton, Ron Yake and Harold Porter.

Lake Wilberforce is one of Monmouth's most scenic lakes. Its shores were chosen by our first settlers as a suitable place to begin a community. The lake is fed by the waters of the Burnt River which continues on through beautiful countryside for many miles. A short distance from the lake is a portion of land known as Brigadoon. In 1962 this was purchased and for a number of years was a happy holiday centre for school girls. It is now operated as a restaurant where meals and snacks may be obtained during the summer months. June 29 is the opening date this year and it is expected that many guests will arrive to enjoy the hospitality that has been shown in the past.

Close by is a gift shop known as Heather House. It is well worth a visit to discover the fine selection of quality merchandise that has been chosen with care. You will admire this fascinating collection of articles from all parts of the globe and will enjoy a chat with the friendly proprietor Dr. Joy Ballard. Restaurant and gift house are closed Mondays and Tuesdays and open for the remaining days from 11:30 to 8 p.m.

There has been a book exchange at the library. This will be the last one until fall. If you are looking for something new to read, drop in and see what is now available. Summer hours for July and August include Saturday afternoons from 1:30 to 3:30.

Swimming lessons will be commencing July 3 and will continue through the month. The teacher this year will be Miss Cindy Mason of Peterborough. Mrs. Nin Stutt received word on Sunday of her sister, Ruth's death in Dundas. The burial took place in Weston and Mrs. Stutt, Mrs. Gorrie, Mrs. Stringer and daughter Denny all attended. Mrs. Major had often visited here and her friends all knew her as Aunt Ruth. We offer sympathy to the bereaved.

Sunday was a large crowd at the United Church as the memorial window in memory of the late Cliff Harrison was dedicated. Mrs. Ritchie Harrison and her husband entertained the family afterwards at a family get-together. Hymn books were also dedicated to Mr. James Chambers, Mrs. Norman Wallace and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Irwin. The Sunday School children also received their awards for attendance.

Sunday was also the day of the annual Prentice reunion. Some 35 sat down to dinner at the Holiday Inn.

There was another get-together for the Fort Meyer's Beach friends. This time Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Prentice of Lindsay were the entertainers.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell of Sudbury have been visiting friends here.

Mr. Norman Price has been getting his place ready for summer business and expects to open this weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Windsor plan to attend their great granddaughter's christening in Toronto on the 24th and then will spend a week in Belleville with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Kerr have returned from a holiday in England and Scotland.

of their excellent dinners from 5 to 7 p.m. This will be at the Memorial Centre hall. In the evening a dance will take place at the Lloyd Watson Memorial Centre with Frank Leahy dance bands participating.

Runabout hits aluminum boat, charges pending

Two persons escaped in jury Sunday when their 12 foot aluminum boat was run over by a runabout.

Rosemary Soden of Kingston and David John Vrooman of RR 3, Stella, were travelling south on Little Elsie Lake in Minden Township at approximately 4:30 p.m. when they noticed another boat approaching.

The second vessel, a 16 foot fibreglass runabout with a 70 horsepower motor driven by Brian Wayne Hewitt, 22, of Bay Ridges, Ontario, was towing a water skier and carrying three passengers. Hewitt apparently turned the boat around to head back to Horseshoe Lake and failed to see the smaller craft. Soden and Vrooman waved and shouted as Hewitt's boat bore down on them, then jumped overboard when it was clear a collision was imminent. The runabout struck the aluminum boat and went over the top of it.

Police say charges are pending as a result of the incident.

Haliburton Highlights

by Creighton Feir

The annual meeting of the Haliburton Minor Hockey Association will take place tonight (Wednesday, June 27) at the arena in Haliburton. The agenda will cover setting up an executive for next year, gathering names of interested people for coaches, managers and trainers for next year, and analyzing the performance of this past year. Please plan to attend, bring your ideas and enthusiasm and maybe, some more interested people. All managers are reminded to please bring team sweaters, socks, goal equipment, etc. to the meeting so that they can be cleaned and repaired for next year.

Roller skating, "roller skating to disco music", got underway at the Haliburton Curling Rink last Friday evening and if the number of people who turned out on Friday and Saturday evenings are any indication, then it's going to be a real success. Well over 100 people were on hand on Saturday night to enjoy the sport of roller skating. The general public seem to be really enthusiastic about it and those who haven't tried it are going to give it a go this week. Roller skating is on Tuesday through Saturday nights from 7:30 to 10:30.

The caboose which is used to house the information centre has been moved from its old location at the first crossing up near the CNR station which is now known as the Guild Gallery. This will all fit in with the new park complex.

Bill Weaver of Fenelon Falls was in the village last week renewing old acquaintances and I met him at Curry Motors visiting with Joe Iles. Bill and Joe played defence a few years ago with the Haliburton Huskies. Bill tells me he is retired now and previous to this was on the Fenelon Falls police force.

Members of the Eastern Star attended the Sunday morning service at the Haliburton United Church.

"Meatballs", the movie which was filmed in Haliburton and surrounding area is now playing in Toronto and will open at the Molou Theatre in Haliburton on Friday, July 13 where it will have a week's run. Later on it will move on and play at the Beaver Theatre in Minden. Theatre owner Lou Consky told me that he has seen the picture and that it is a real good comedy.

Work has begun on the new park in Haliburton and last week municipal employees were busy cleaning up the area from the tracks to the highway in the area from the government dock to station platform. Some white grit has also been placed in this area.

"The Occult" a film that featured Hal Lindsey, author of "The Late Great Planet Earth" was shown at the Lakeside Baptist Church at Haliburton last Sunday evening.

Last Thursday night at the Rotary Club meeting in Haliburton, Dave Bishop, with the able assistance of Murray Austin, brought to the club, films and slides of their recent fishing trip in Province of Quebec. About nine local men made the trip. This Thursday night will be the year-end meeting of the Rotary Club of Haliburton at Wig-A-Mog Inn. Vince Connaughan will be coming in as the new president and he will take over from Ken Langdon.

Mr. Frank Roberts of Haliburton, retired recently after having worked 27 years for the Ministry of Transportation and Communications.

Frank was employed as a snow plow operator and grader operator at the M.T.C. patrol in Haliburton. He was presented with a certificate by D.A.O. White, District Engineer, in Huntsville, to commemorate his service with the M.T.C.

Total Snowarama receipts raised jointly by the Haliburton and Minden Rotary Clubs came to $17,243.76. The two clubs are to be congratulated on a job well done.

We notice that the banner is up on Highland Street near the Bell Canada office advertising Haliburton's Third Annual Fiddling and Step Dancing Championships which are scheduled for the curling rink in Haliburton on Friday and Saturday, July 13 and 14.

The big weekend is coming up to usher in the summer season. Let's hope that it will be warm and sunny. Do you know that it's only six months until Christmas. How time does fly.

Kinmount Klippings

by Fran Crawford

Hi folks. Well, here we are in summer holidays. What a great beginning with the sun shining and warm days.

The past week being Senior Citizens Week, it was really nice on Wednesday, June 20. The Senior Citizens Club 714 went on a bus trip to Beavermead Park for a special day held for our seniors. There were 24 members on the trip and they thoroughly enjoyed the day. Six of them brought home prizes won in various games. They were also the club that travelled the farthest for the day. On their way home they stopped and had supper at the Ponderosa in Peterborough. A very enjoyable day was had by all.

On June 8, Mrs. Betty Bacon attended graduation exercises for her daughter Anna-Marie at Sheridan College in Oakville. Anna-Marie is a former graduate of Haliburton Highlands Secondary School and has completed her Early Childhood Education Program and will be employed by St. Hilda's Nursery School in Oakville starting in September. Her picture will appear in next week's Echo.

Excited or what? On Friday, June 22 Allan Yeo caught a 47" musky at Furnace Falls. It weighed a little over 20 pounds and is the first ever to be caught there. Also, it was caught on a live worm harness. What a fish story, but if you have any doubts just drop in at Dettmans Store. John has pictures I know he would be glad to show.

The Ladies Auxiliary to Branch 441 had a very successful bake sale and rummage sale on Saturday. Thank you everyone who donated and helped the ladies.

Bingo this week will be $7 numbers called for $170 jackpot. I haven't heard of any big winners lately, but keep trying, you may be next.

There was a dance and beauty contest at Galway Hall on Saturday. I hear there was a good crowd as usual but I'll have more details next week as I wasn't there.

By the way, this Saturday, June 30 at 10 a.m. there will be a bazaar and bake sale put on by Kinmount Senior Citizens Club 714. If you have your oven on I know they would appreciate a small donation.

Cheerio for now. See you next week and do drive careful and have a real good holiday.

Dorset News

by Phyllis Briscoe

There was a bountiful bridal shower held in the Dorset Community Centre on Tuesday, June 19 in honour of Gracie Ryan and Linda Ellington. Linda was married on June 21 to Bruce Cain of Dwight in the Dorset United Church. There was a large crowd of friends and relatives in attendance and the girls received many beautiful gifts. After the gifts were opened and admired, a sumptuous lunch was served.

The sympathy of the community is extended to the family of Mrs. Wm. Mustard, who passed away at their cottage on Kawagama Lake last week. Dr. Mustard and his family have been summer residents in the area for many years and have numerous friends and acquaintances in the community.

Lloyd McKey, his wife May and their three children of Hespeler and Lloyd's mother, Mrs. Vernon McKey of Timmins, visited with relatives in Dorset over the weekend.

On Thursday, June 21, the Dorset Elementary School held their graduation exercises at the Leslie M. Frost Resources Centre. The students, their parents and the school staff enjoyed a delicious roast beef dinner in the centre cafeteria. There were seven graduates; namely, Florence Brown, Teresa Eaton, Pauline Ewstratin, Leslie Keown, Gordon Lewis, Andrew McKay and Elmar Theisen. Special awards were presented: the student showing the greatest desire to succeed to Florence Brown; award for history and geography, Florence Brown; science and mathematics award, Gordon Lewis; award for achievement in English, Florence Brown; best all-round boy and girl athlete, Les Keown and Pauline Ewstratin; grade eight boy and girl for academic achievement, Gordon Lewis and Florence Brown. The Valedictory address was presented by Florence Brown. School awards were: Oral Communications, Andy McKay and Jeff Avery. The Bob Baum awards went to Heather MacGregor, Steve Avery, Les Leown and Pauline Ewstratin. These young ladies and gentlemen have finished the first sector of their education and will be off to high school in the fall where they will meet new challenges and will have hurdles to get over that they may find difficult. Our good wishes go with them and we wish them all the luck in the world. In the meantime we hope they have a deliciously happy summer.

Wish the weatherman would make up his mind. We're roasting one weekend and freezing the next. There's no justice weather-wise.

You have to walk before you can run.
